TAFT ELECTED

Will Have a Big Electoral Vote.

CONGRESS REPUBLICAN

Senate and House Are to Remain Unchanged.

CLOSE VOTE IN MANY STATES

Maryland, Nebraska and Colorado Long In Doubt.

New York, Nov. 4.—With the returns from the certain and the hotly contested states all collated here the magnitude of the Republican victory in the national election is realized.

In some instances, notably in New York, the vote polled by Taft and Sherman is even larger than the total piled up by Roosevelt and Fairbanks in 1904. Mr. Taft's electoral vote will fall short of that given to the present incumbent of the White House, but the incoming chief executive of the nation may pride himself on a very large majority.

This is how the electoral votes will be cast:

Totals	301	182

Returns from Colorado, Maryland, Montana and Nebraska, states at first declared to be doubtful, indicate that they have been carried by the Democratic national ticket. West Virginia is claimed by both parties, with the chances favoring Taft. With this state and the four first named Mr. Bryan will have 185 electoral votes. Without the last named state he will have 178 votes, giving Mr. Taft 298 and 305 votes respectively. In any case Mr. Taft has a very large majority of the total electoral vote of 483.

One of the results surpassing the most sanguine hopes of most Republicans was Mr. Taft's carrying the greater city of New York by a plurality which footed 15,645. Furthermore, his plurality in New York state will be approximately 190,000.

Only second in point of general interest was the victory of Governor Charles E. Hughes, who is re-elected by a plurality of 76,260 over the vote cast for his Democratic opponent, Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler. While Greater New York gave a plurality for Taft, it gave Chanler a margin of 60,388. But Governor Hughes gained more over his plurality of two years ago than Taft did over the Roosevelt plurality.

With thirty-one United States senators to be selected by legislatures just chosen or elected earlier in the fall and in the light of the results in the several states so far as known the Republicans will retain their control of both houses of congress.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon has been re-elected from the Eighteenth Illinois district by an increased majority. Sereno E. Payne, John Dalzell, Nicholas Longworth and other well known figures in the house will retain their seats.

Representatives Payne of New York and Dalzell of Pennsylvania have been re-elected, and the house of representatives probably will continue under its old regime. Mr. Payne will have charge of the new tariff bill in the extra session which Mr. Taft will call immediately after March 4 next.

The following table shows the party representation in the incoming congress, the Sixty-first, by states, according to the latest returns:

The new members of the senate will be 17 Republicans and 13 Democrats, with one new man in doubt.

Bryan's chief strength seems to have been in the middle west. There is a degree of truth in the saying in vogue here, "The east has elected a president." New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania went to Taft with large majorities. The only eastern state about which there seems doubt is Maryland, which is exceedingly close.

This vote in New York city for president has caused the greatest surprise. That Taft should finally get a plurality of about 9,009 in the city caused astonishment even to the Republican managers. It is believed that this is due to the inroads made on the Democratic vote by the Socialists. The vote of Debs is probably largely in excess of 25,000.

There has been a slaughter of Republican gubernatorial candidates in States which Mr. Taft has carried. Governor Burke is re-elected in North Dakota. Governor Johnson is re-elected in Minnesota. Hemans (Dem.) is expected to defeat Governor Warner in Michigan almost two to one.

There has been an increase in the Republican vote in the southern states. Twenty thousand more men voted for Taft in Florida than for Roosevelt four years before. Virginia's plurality for Bryan has been decreased, and the Republicans have gained a member of congress. There has also been a considerable gain in the Republican vote in Tennessee, Georgia and North Carolina.

One of the surprises of the election is the defeat in Iowa of Representative W. P. Hepburn, author of the Hepburn railroad rate law. He was defeated by J. D. Jameson, a Democrat.

Indiana has gone for Taft by from 15,000 to 18,000 plurality. Thomas F. Marshall, Democrat, will be Indiana's next governor.

Bryan apparently has carried Nebraska, although the Republicans still claim the state.

Ohio returns have been seriously delayed owing to the immense size of the ballot, but Taft has carried the state by a majority reaching nearly 100,000. Judson Harmon, Democratic candidate for governor, is elected.

Hisgen, the Independence party candidate for president, received about 28,000 votes in Greater New York.

The indications are that Democratic governors have been elected in several of the middle western states that have given their presidential votes to Taft, notably in Indiana and Ohio.

Mr. Taft has exceeded Mr. Roosevelt's plurality in New Jersey and in Massachusetts as well as in New York.

Mr. Taft carried practically every so called doubtful state except Nebraska, where the indications point to a Democratic victory. Mr. Bryan has carried Nevada and Montana in addition to the solid south, which includes Missouri.

Returns from Colorado are still too conflicting to form a definite conclusion as to the state's alignment.

The latest advices are that Bryan has carried Maryland by about 1,000.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP COUNTRY

Besides Electing Taft and Sherman, Gains are Made in Many Districts and Congress Will Have Republican Majority.

William H. Taft made a sweep of the country Tuesday and was elected President of the United States by a very large majority. James S. Sherman was elected Vice-President.

Reports received up until a late hour this morning, not only tell the story of Taft's election, but indicate an overwhelming majority. The Democratic National Committee conceded the election of Taft befor e 10 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Taft has carried all the Northern States heard from, and will have over three hundred votes in the Electoral College.

States and Congressional Districts heard from indicate that Congress will have Republican majority.

BRADFORD COUNTY GOES REPUBLICAN

PRATT AND SHIELDS ELECTED BY LIBERAL MAJORITIES

Charles C. Pratt, Republican, of New Milford, Susquehanna county is elected Member of Congress to succeed Hon. G. W. Kipp, Democrat, of Towanda, and Hon. Moses Shields of Nicholson, Wyoming county, is elected State Senator to represent this, the Twenty-third District.

In addition to the Congressional and Senatorial contest, great interest was manifested in the battle for Sheriff between John H. Dean of Towanda, and M. J. McNulty of Troy.

CHARLES C. PRATT,
Elected Member of Congress to Succeed G. W. Kipp.

EMPIRE STATE FOR TAFT AND HUGHES.

Both Get Big Majorities In New York.

New York, Nov. 4.—It was an overwhelming Republican victory in New York state for both the national and state tickets. William H. Taft carried the state by a plurality approximating 190,000, which exceeded even the most optimistic predictions of the Republican leaders and was upward of 22,000 greater than that which New York state gave to President Roosevelt four years ago. Another and almost equally notable achievement recorded was that Taft carried Greater New York city by more than 9,000. But once before has New York city given its vote to a Republican president—McKinley.

Governor Charles E. Hughes overcame a violent opposition to his re-election and defeated Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, his Democratic opponent, by a plurality estimated at 76,260, which is about equal to his plurality at his first election two years ago.

Returns from the entire state gave Hughes a plurality of 71,571. The governor carried New York state outside of Greater New York city by 128,414 on the face of the returns so far as complete. Lieutenant Governor Chanler carried Greater New York by 56,843, a falling off of the Democratic plurality of about 20,000 from the vote in the greater city two years ago.

The entire Republican state ticket has been elected. The legislature, which will elect a successor to United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, will stand: Senate, 34 Republicans to 17 Democrats, a Republican gain of two; assembly, 102 Republicans to 48 Democrats, a Republican gain of five.

Reports from all parts of the state indicate that the vote was heavy, the efforts of both gubernatorial candidates to bring out the ballots being rewarded with success. Both the old parties polled full votes, their strength not being seriously affected by the Independence, Socialist and other minor parties.

QUAKERS INDORSE TAFT

He Receives a Large Majority of the Pennsylvania Vote.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—The latest returns from all counties in the state indicate that Taft's plurality in Pennsylvania is 300,000. The Republicans have elected twenty-seven congressmen and may increase the delegation to twenty-nine. The present Pennsylvania delegation stands Republicans 25, Democrats 7.

William D. Porter (Rep.) is re-elected judge of the superior court by a plurality a little less than that given to Mr. Taft.

The legislature remains strongly Republican.

For Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is the best remedy for sprains and bruises.

It quiets the pain at once, and can be applied to the tenderest part without hurting because it doesn't need to be rubbed—all you have to do is to lay it on lightly. It is a powerful preparation and penetrates instantly—relieves any inflammation and congestion, and reduces the swelling.

Sloan's Liniment

is an excellent antiseptic and germ killer—heals cuts, burns, wounds and contusions, and will draw the poison from sting of poisonous insects.

Price, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

MOUNTAIN LAKE.

The many friends of Mrs. Elsie Allen, wife of the late Russell Allen, were greatly shocked to hear of her very sudden death on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 27. Although she had been in ill health and suffered from heart trouble for many years, she was apparently in her usual health that day, and ate dinner with the family and several guests who were there. After dinner, as was her usual custom, she retired to the sittingroom and sat down in her rocking chair and dropped asleep. When the family came in a short time later they found the death angel had been before them. Apparently she had never awakened; death had come without a struggle. Hers was a sweet christian character, and she will be greatly missed by her family of devoted children. She leaves to mourn their loss two sons and two daughters, Martin of Fairview, Fred, with whom she resided at the old homestead, Mrs. Frank Haight of Athens, and Mrs. Lynn Parkhurst of Binghamton. The funeral was held on Friday at 10 o'clock from the house and 11 o'clock at the church, Rev. A. H. Youell officiating. Interment was made in the Mountain Lake cemetery.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the past few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney, Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

RECEIVER WILL BORROW COIN

Major Warren Waonts Million and a Quarter to Preserve Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company Property—Other Notes.

J. C. McCloskey, proprietor of the Crawford House, at Jersey Shore, in a four days' hunting trip near Milesburg, Centre county, killed 26 pheasants, 14 rabbits, three squirrels and two woodcock.

Plans have been prepared by the Universal Portland Cement company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, to double the capacity of its big slag plant, at Universal, Allegheny county, at a cost of $2,000,000.

Major Everett Warren, representing T. H. Watkins of Scranton, who was recently named as receiver for the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company, has asked for and received from the courts permission to borrow $1,250,000 for the purpose of preserving the property of the company, this amount being needed for the payment of taxes, interest and sinking fund charges.

Opening the door at his home at Red Lion as he thought to a perfect stranger, S. G. Runkle learned that the man was in reality Ceanes Runkle, a brother, for years mourned as dead. After 18 years he had come all the way from San Francisco to see his relatives, and the reunion was a joyful one.

After living for 60 years totally blind, the result of a political celebration, John Vansickle died at his home at Jamison City, aged 92 years. In 1848 Mr. Vansickle was a resident of Bloomsburg, and a firm supporter of William F. Johnson candidate for governor. After Johnson's election Vansickle was the leader in the celebration in honor of the event, and while firing a small cannon it exploded completely blinding him.

Without funds enough to have materail for street filling donated by the York Railways company carted to places where it is most needed, the York Highway commissioners will on Saturday try out the most novel method of city highway repairing ever heard of there. Commissioner Strine has issued a call for all public-spirited York boys to meet in the East End Saturday morning with express wagons, wheelbarrows and shovels. The materail will be dumped there by the street railway company, and the commissioners anticipate that there will be enough boy volunteers to dispose of it in short order.

Miss Mildred MacClosky of Pittsburg, on Wednesday afternoon performed the task of "blowing in" the last of the group of furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company, limited. The furnace had been idle for some months.

Two disguised men bound, gagged and then robbed John Knight, an octogenerian, at Knox, Clarion county, early on Wednesday morning. They secured about $500 and then stole a horse and buggy and made their escape.

A large number of Bulgarians who had been employed in the construction of an oil pipe line through Montgomery county, have quit work to return to Bulgaria to aid in the fight for their country's independence, if war should be declared.

A little daughter of Christian Spielman of Limerick, Montgomery county, on Wednesday fell 12 feet into a cistern of water, but was rescued by her father who plunged in just in time to save her.

A modest New York firm last week requested Secretary of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee, to furnish the partnership with a copy of the list of all the registered voters in Pennsylvania. Leaving cut of the question the fact that there is no such complete list in the world, registration being solely a matter of local control, the request was simply appalling. By the last Presidential election there were 1,236,000 voters in the state. If a newspaper were to print that list, allowing two names to a line, it would take just 2,472 columns.

An apple tree in Mrs. J. G. Dale's yard in Tionseta, Forest county, is attracting considerable attention by coming out in a new dress of blossoms this Fall, after having borne its usual quota of fruit in season.

Captain James M. Gayetty of Oil City, nearly 80 years of age, returned home on Thursday from a week's hunting trip in Forest county, bringing with him a 250-pound bear which he had shot near Marienville. He intends making another trip next week.

A few days ago George Slapa of Upper Lehigh, Luzerne county, while overheated, drank ice water freely and was, as a result, stricken with blindness. He has been sent to a Philadelphia hospital for treatment.

John Mininger, who broke jail at Butler in 1905, and was recaptured last week, was on Monday sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, by Judge Galbreath. Mininger was under sentence for larceny. He has a prison record of 18 years and has escaped three times from the Butler jail.

Arthur Orr of Pittsburg and Maude Eickelberger of Sellinsgrove, who were principals in a joke wedding recently at Sunbury, which created much comment, have secured a marriage license and had their marriage confirmed so as to end all gossip and quibbling.

Harold Shepner of Beaver Falls, aged eight years, found a dynamite cap on Monday morning. He pounded it with a stone and three of his fingers were blown off. The same morning in another part of the town Wesley Lamkert, aged 11 years, who found a dynamite cap pounded it with a hatchet and his left eye is gone.

FACTORY INSPECTOR BISHOP HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Large Bucket of Iron Missed Him by Very Narrow Margin.

E. W. Bishop of Towanda, deputy factory inspector for this district, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured, if not from death, while inspecting a fire escape on the Elmer building in Sayre Thursday afternoon.

The fire escape leads downward from the third to the second floor and then there is an arrangement whereby that part of the escape that leads to the ground is held upward when not in use. There is a chain which leads from the bottom of the escape, upward over a pulley and then on the other end of the chain there is, or rather was, a large bucket filled with scrap iron.

The bucket and contents weigh several hundred pounds, enough in fact to pull up the fire escape when it is not in use. In order to use the escape a man can walk out on the ladder, the bucket will be pulled upward and one end of the ladder will drop to the ground. Mr. Bishop whose duty it is to test such escapes, walked out on the ladder yesterday afternoon, the end dropped to the ground and he had descended about half the distance when the chain broke and the bucket dropped. It narrowly missed Mr. Bishop and struck the bottom of the ladder, breaking two of the iron steps.

STAGE SCENERY.

Modern Settings Tax the Ingenuity of the Builders.

The big scenic artists do little actual painting beyond making the model, unless they have a panoramic effect. That they do themselves, standing on the paint bridge, many feet from the floor, while the canvas is raised or lowered. The panoramic effects are hard to handle. One difficulty is to avoid fluttering when a draft sweeps across the stage. Mountains that tremble hazily are not conducive to illusion.

With the elaborate productions of late years the importance of the builder of scenery has increased, says Everybody's Magazine. Formerly, when the scenery consisted merely of canvas stretched over a wooden frame, it was simple enough. But the struggle for realism and sensational effects has developed difficult problems for the builder of stage scenery to solve. Every piece of scenery must be made so that it can be folded into strips five feet nine inches wide, because the doors of the baggage cars in which it is transported are only six feet in breadth. Also every piece must be light and so constructed that one scene can be removed and another put in place within ten minutes. It may take thirty hours of continuous work to get the scenery "set up," to use a technical expression, after it is brought into the theater. After that the work of changing a scene is comparatively easy.

A DOGS' CLUB.

London's Luxurious Resort For Aristocratic Canine Pets.

London is the only city in the world boasting a dogs' club. The club is in a pleasant suit of rooms near the Trocadero and close to Regent street. Handsome rugs cover the floors, the windows are veiled in lace and silk, and luxurious sofas are ranged against the walls, while a profusion of soft pillows are scattered about for the comfort of aristocratic dogs who prefer the floor for a nap. Dainty satin lined wicker baskets are provided for the smaller pets. The membership fee is half a sovereign, but this does not include meals, baths or tips to the attendants.

Ladies going shopping or to the theater leave their pugs and poodles at the club and give the attendant in charge at the time a few shillings for looking after it, but if the dog is fed half a crown is charged. This pays for a mutton chop and milk. A whole crown provides the little animal with minced chicken. For a half sovereign Fido is bathed, brushed and [illegible] and if he is a French poodle his hair is carefully curled. A veterinary is attached to the club to see that only dogs in perfect health are admitted, all sick members being quarantined in a separate room. Blankets, boots, collars, harness, soaps and brushes and all the accessories of a fashionable dog's toilet as well as dog medicines are sold at the club.—New York Press.

Sitting Bull.

To look at Sitting Bull one would say that he was always quiet and self contained. In fact, he did usually keep himself under control, but he was cruel and almost heartless. He had practiced cruelty to animals and men from his childhood and as long as he lived; he was full of passion and often very angry. He was always imperious and insolent toward our generals, the Indian agent and other friends of the great father at Washington, whom he claimed to hate. He had great talent and ability to plan campaigns and battles and wonderful influence in bringing Indians together. Notwithstanding all this, he was afraid of death, and, though he planned the greatest victory which the Indians ever gained over white men, Sitting Bull himself was a coward and disgraced himself even before his own people by running away in the very face of success.—General Howard in St. Nicholas.

The Poor Milkman Again.

The milkman was boiling over with indignation.

"And you mean to say my milk don't look right?" he snapped. "Why, lady, this can of milk is a picture!"

"Ah, yes," laughed the keen housewife; "a fine water color."—Exchange.

Restless.

Caller—So your cook has passed away to a better place? Hostess—Yes, but I don't know if she'll stay. Poor Bridget was very hard to suit.—Boston Traveler.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER

Charles B. Taylor.

Charles B. Taylor died at his home near Alba, Thursday morning, Oct. 29, in the 76th year of his age. The funeral was held from his late residence Monday, Nov. 2, at 1 o'clock p. m.

Death of a Little Girl.

The six years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byrum Tuttl of North Towanda, died Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock after a short illness. The funeral was held Tuesday at 11 a. m., at the Brick church in Wysox.

Mrs. Grace Northrup.

Mrs. Grace Northrup, wife of Fred Northrup, who is now in the Owego jail, died at the Packer hospital at Sayre Monday morning at 9 o'clock. When she came to the hospital she was paralyzed from the hips down, and was otherwise affected. She entered the hospital Aug. 7, and has gradually grown worse until her death yesterday.

A. W. Berry.

A. W. Berry, a well known and highly respected resident of Springfield, died Sunday, Nov. 1, at his home in that township at the age of 77 years. He is survived by his wife, one son Edgar Berry of Gilletts, and one daughter, Mrs. S. F. Robinson of Athens. The funeral was held from the Berrytown church Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

John M. Lane.

John M. Lane, one of Asylum township's best known citizens, died at his home near Marshview Thursday morning, Oct. 29, after a short illness with grip. Deceased was 67 years of age. He is survived by his wife and ten children, one of whom is Mrs. A. W. Brennan of Towanda. The funeral was held at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Towanda, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Jacob Miller.

Jacob Miller, a cabinetmaker, employed by the Athens Furniture company, dropped dead while about to unlock his tool chest preparatory to beginning work in the company's factory shortly before 7 o'clock Monday morning. Heart trouble was the cause of his sudden death. He is survived by three sons, Fred of Lestershire; Charles and Edward of Athens, and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Coe of Elmira; Mrs. Clarissa Willett of Hector, N. Y., and Mrs. D. T. Fisher of Athens.

Miles Teeter.

Miles, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Teeter, died at the family home in Wyalusing, Monday afternoon, Nov. 2, at about 7 o'clock, after an illness of about a week of acute Bright's disease, at the age of eight years. He was a bright little fellow, polite to his elders, and an agreeable playmate with the youth of his own age. The parents have the sympathy of the entire town in their bereavement. Short funeral services were held at the M. E. church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, after which the remains were taken to Evergreen for interment.—Wyalusing Rocket.

W. H. Darling.

The Herald, published at Louisburg, Miami county, Kansas, gives the following account of the death of a native and long time resident of Bradford county: "W. H. Darling was born in Orwell, Bradford county, Pa., June 3, 1841, and was married to Miss Mary E. Harrison of Milford, Pa., on Dec. 16, 1863. Two children were born to them, Katie D., now Mrs. Hervey Howard, and Grace Darling, Grace having died in young womanhood, in the 15th year of her age. They located in Miami county in 1897. He died at the home of his daughter, Katie D. Howard, Oct. 18, 1908, funeral Oct. 19, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge of Louisburg, Kansas, of which order he was a useful and worthy member."

Mrs. Rachel Davenport.

Mrs. Rachel Davenport died Thursday morning, Oct. 29, at 9 o'clock, at her home in Sayre. She was born in November, 1834, and was therefore 74 years o fage. She had lived in Sayre for the last 30 years, having moved there from Halsey Valley, N. Y., and resided at her present home ever since. Her husband, Henry Davenport, who was one of Sayre's most respected residents, died about 15 years ago. The deceased had been a sufferer from cancer for over a year, and for the last six weeks had been confined to her bed, and her death had been hourly expected for several days. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. W. Gilkey and Mrs. Alonzo House.

Chester Ellis.

Chester Ellis died at his home in Litchfield, on Friday morning, Oct. 23. Funeral services at the church, Monday at 11 o'clock, Rev. Lewis of Nichols, officiating. Interment at Nichols. Besides his wife he leaves one son, James Ellis, and three daughters, Mrs. Taylor Rogers, Mrs. Samuel Rogers, and Miss Libbie Ellis, the youngest, who is almost totally blind. Mr. Ellis was a good husband, a kind father, an accommodating neighbor and a brave soldier, hving enlisted three times in the War of the Rebellion and served until its close. He was wounded in one hand, which troubled him ever after. It has been said that his happy, cheerful temperanment kept many a soldier boy from despondency and homesickness. He will be missed and his wit and humor will long be remembered by all who knew him.

Riley Thompson.

Riley Thompson, aged 55 years, died Friday afternoon, Oct. 30, at 4:30 o'clock at the home in Bentley Creek. He was a life long resident of Bradford county and was a prosperous and hard working farmer, well liked and highly respected. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Grace Baker and Miss Coral Compton, one son, Frank Thompson of Florida, a brother, Eugene Thompson of Wellsburg, his father, John Thompson. Only a few months ago his wife died. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Baptist church in Wellsburg. Burial was in Wellsburg.

Louis Mayton Hillick.

Louis Mayton Hillick, son of Mayton Hillick, died on Saturday morning, Oct. 31, at his home in Sayre. He had been seriously ill for several weeks and his death had been expected at almost any time. His death was due to consumption from which he had suffered for many months. He was 18 years of age on April 6, and had lived in Sayre nearly all his life. He graduated from the Sayre high school last June, but owing to the illness that finally terminated in his death he was unable to attend the school for some time previous to his graduation. He was an especially bright young man, had a large circle of friends who will mourn his death. He is survived by his father and two sisters, Ethel and Louise Hillick. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock on Monday morning and the body taken to Ithaca for interment.

Silas Corwin Gregg.

Silas Corwin Gregg, one of the prominent farmers of Wells, this county, died on Thursday, Oct. 29, at his home after a long and painful illness. Mr. Gregg was born near Mecklenburg, N. Y., July 18, 1837. He was the son of Byron and Polly Gregg, and his grandfather was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. Mr. Gregg was a man of sterling integrity and had been a professing Christian for 25 years, being an officer in the Presbyterian church at Wells. He will be greatly missed in the community in which he lived as an upright man; one whose judgment could be relied upon and whose wise counsel was always sought. He is survived by his widow, one son, Charles L. Gregg of Wells, one daughter, Mrs. William Gustin of Snedekers, and one sister, Mrs. I. L. Bodle of Elmira. A prayer service was held in Wells Monday morning at 10 o'clock and the funeral was held in Elmira at the home of his sister, Mrs. Bodle in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery and was private.

Sylvanus D. Kendall

On Monday, Oct. 26, 1908, occurred the death of Sylvanus D. Kendall, at his home in Canton. About four years ago Mr. Kendall had a fall, receiving injuries from which he never fully recovered. This with the ailments conducive to old age was the cause of death. Mr. Kendall was the second to the oldest person in Canton, he having been born in Rutland Vt., Dec. 27, 1816, making his age 91 years, 9 months and 29 days. He came to Canton with his parents when about six years of age, and resided in or near Canton up to the time of his death with the exception of three years when he was located in Minnesota. He was twice married, the first time, May 15, 1839, to Miss Delight Spalding, who died Nov. 14 1856. His second marriage was to a sister of his first wife. Miss Laura Spalding, Feb. 3, 1861, she dying June 27, 1901.

He is survived by two daughters and one son, viz: Harriet Mix, and Lucinda Jones, of Canton, and Horace Kendall, of Elmira; also 8 grand-children and 12 great-grand-children. Mr. Kendall was a wheelwright and followed that business up to about ten years ago. The funeral was held from his late home Wednesday morning, the services being in charge of Rev. Williams, of the Methodist Episcopal church. The interment was made in the Spalding cemetery at Cedar Ledge

Negro Eloquence.

Some years ago one of Texas' widely known statesmen who is now dead was passing along a street in Dallas when an old colored man who had once belonged to him approached, took off his hat and passed a hand over his white wool as he asked:

"Marster, gin de old man 50 cents."

"Dan, you are a robber."

"How?" asked the astonished darky, opening his eyes, around which roughshod age had walked.

"Didn't you see me put my hand in my pocket?"

"Yes, sah."

"Well, you old rascal, you rob me of the pleasure of giving you money without being asked."

The old man received a dollar. Bowing almost to the ground, while tears came out and coursed through the aged prints around his eyes, he replied:

"Marster, wid—wid such a heart as you hab and wid Abraham and Isaac and de Lord on your side I don't see what can keep you out of heaven."

The Unmaking.

He (boastingly)—It takes six generations to make a gentleman, you know. She (calmly)—Yes, and what a pity that it only takes one generation to unmake him!—Exchange.

Truth is as impossible to be soiled by any outward touch as is the sunbeam. —Milton.

BURNED PAPERS CAUSE A MILD SENSATION.

Undelivered Copies of Sayre Paper Found Partly Burned at New Milford

A mild sensation was caused Friday when it became known that a number of copies of a special political edition of the Sayre Times-Record were found partly burned in the gutter in front of the postoffice at New Milford, Susquehanna county. The fact that the papers were "campaign specials" caused considerable talk, when they were first found, and Detective Hollon of Towanda, was sent by Hon. G. W. Kipp, Democratic candidate for congress, and in whose interest the papers were mailed, to New Milford, to make an investigation. Mr. Hollon makes affidavit to the finding of a number of the papers which had been partly burned, and claims that two of the parties to whom they were addressed live in New Milford. In his affidavit he makes no reference as to whether any other mail matter besides the "campaign specials" were found in the gutter.

Postmaster Butterfield of New Milford, has made affidavit that neither he or any one in the New Milford postoffice destroyed, or retarded the delivery of letters, papers or any other matter coming into the office, with the exception of a few copies of newspapers returned by rural carriers, which were burned with other waste matter. These papers were addressed to parties dead or unknown.

The only political significance which has been attached to the finding of the papers is the fact that they were found in New Milford, the home town of C. C. Pratt, Republican candidate for congress.

The Sayre Times-Record in last night's issue made much of the story, even going as far as to intimate that the papers had been destroyed at the instigation of the Republicans who are supporting Mr. Pratt in his candidacy.

The postoffice department at Washington will probably make an investigation, and until that is done, the real facts in the matter will not be known. The postoffice department recognizes no factions in the investigation of irregularities, and this case will probably be sifted to the bottom.

CHARLES E. MILLS
Elected Member of the State Legislature.

Fell to His Death.

Evan Evans, a pump runner in No. 4 shaft of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Pittston, fell from a 30-foot trestle early Thursday morning and broke his neck. He is supposed to have made a misstep in the dark. The body was found by men on their way to work and was quite cold. Evans was a widower, 54 years of age, and is survived by his aged mother and one son, Mark Evans.

Honor Roll.

The pupils of the Myersburg school who were neither absent nor tardy during the school month ending Oct. 28, are Susie Green, Mattie Simons, Helen Davis, Marvis Reynolds, Agatha Davis, Catherine Murphy, Sarah Maynard, George Chamberlain and George Reynolds. Vivian Reynolds, teacher.

STOLEN VAN DYCK FOUND.

Picture Worth Thousands Picked Up on Steamer Statendam.

New York, Nov. 4.—A stolen Van Dyck was picked up on the steamer Statendam of the Holland-American line by Inspector M. L. Donovan of the office of the surveyor of the port of New York.

The Van Dyck, which is worth thousands of dollars, was stolen from the gallery of Count Harrach in Vienna on Aug. 24 last. It is the head of a boy. The picture is 15 by 12 inches.

Miss Mary Pullman to Wed Prince?

Vienna, Nov. 4.—The Wiener Estrablatt Illustrite announces that a marriage has been arranged between Prince Miguel of Braganza, the eldest son of the pretender to the Portuguese throne, and Miss Mary Pullman and will be celebrated in London the end of November.

Servian War Clouds Gather.

Vienna, Nov. 4.—It is declared unofficially here that war preparations against Servia are now under way in Austria-Hungary. War now seems inevitable. Troops are to be hastened to the front, where guerrilla warfare is now being carried on by Servian bands.

Decoration For Lama of Tibet.

Pekin, Nov. 4.—An edict issued confers a decoration upon the dalai lama of Tibet, who has been absent from Lassa for the past four years, grants him an annual salary of 10,000 taels a year and orders him to return to Tibet.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Aged and Esteemed Couple Enjoy Horseback Ride.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Heverly in Overton, was the scene of a very happy family gathering Saturday, the occasion being in honor of Mr. Heverly's 80th birthday. The affair was somewhat of a surprise to the venerable host as he was not looking for such a general gathering of progeny, relatives and friends, who numbered 63. The five children, 25 of the 28 grandchildren, five of the seven great-grandchildren and Mr. Heverly's only brother were present in addition to relatives and friends from Liberty Corners, Sayre, New Albany and Overton.

A dinner of many good things was partaken of and the day thoroughly enjoyed. In the afternoon a couple of the best horses were saddled and soon mounted by the aged couple, who seemed perfectly at ease in a mile ride. In the last 40 rods of the stretch a race was engaged in and was won by Mr. Heverly, who had the better horse. It was, indeed, a novel spectacle and especially so as witnessed by grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Heverly are a very remarkable couple. They have been married nearly 59 years and have lived together as man and wife longer than any other couple ever in Overton. Both were born in Overton, which always has been their home, and the former on the farm where he has always lived. Mr. Heverly is the oldest living native inhabitant in the town. He is is the third Daniel in line from his grandfather who was the first settler in Overton. He is now the same age as reached by his grandfather and older than his father or any of his uncles on the paternal side. He is a veteran of the Civil war and a grandson of Jacob Wilt, a patriot of the Revolution, who attained the age of 96 years.

Many gifts were left as an evidence of the esteem in which the "venerable father" is held by kinsfolk and friends.—Bradford Star.

ADVISORY BOARD MEETING.

Officers Elected and Routine Business Transacted During Annual Session.

The local advisory board of the Children's Home society of Pennsylvania, held its annual meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, at the home of Mrs. Rendall. The president, George Ridgeway, was in the chair and conducted the regular routine of business. Miss Trego of Pottstown, representing the state organization, was present, and presented the work of the society in a most interesting and instructive manner. Since the beginning of this benevolence in Pennsylvania, 1,050 unfortunate children have found homes in this state alone. Thirty-four of these have been taken from Bradford county, and 31 others have been placed in good homes within the county limits.

At the close of the evening the election of officers of the local board took place with the following result: President, George Ridgeway; vice-presidents, Dr. J. S. Stewart; Rev. Edwin A. Gernant, Rev. H. A. Abbott, Dr. E. M. Mills; treasurer, Mrs. T. B Johnson; secretary, Mrs. S. Rendall; legal advisor, S. H. Smith; medical examiner, Dr. C. Manville Pratt. Executive committee—chairman, Miss Blight; Mrs. N. N. Betts, Mrs. R. A Mercur, Mrs. J. D. Mercur, Mrs. H. T. June, Mrs. Henry Rockwell, Miss Louise Powell, Mrs. Elsie Means, Mrs. J. H. Yeager, Mrs. Theresa Patterson. I. P. Rendall, secretary.

Making Collections.

Miss Trego, representing the Children's Home society of Pennsylvania is now in Towanda making the annual collection of dues from the members of the local advisory board She may be found at Mrs. J. P. Vanfleet's, on State street. Dues may be sent her or left with the treasurer, Mrs. T. B. Johnson.

Ash Track Completed.

Work on the new Lehigh Valley ash track at Sayre has been completed and all that now remains to be done is to tear out the old track and then the $40,000 job will be at an end. The Lehigh ash track proper runs on top of concrete walls and ashes can be dumped from the fire boxes directly into cars. The new tracks will enable the Lehigh to clean fires of engines at a much less expense than formerly.

Register's Office News.

Will of Catherine A. Brooks, late of the Township of Ulster, deceased, admitted to probate. Will of Jemima B. Young, late of the Township of Springfield deceased, admitted to probate and letters testamentary granted to William R. Young and Collin Wood. Letters of administration upon the estate of Charles Henry Card, late of the Borough of Sylvania, deceased, granted to Mary M. Card.

MARRIAGE RECORD

Robinson—French.

Married—In the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Towanda, on Oct. 31, 1908, by Rev. Edmund M. Mills, D. D., Miss Mazie French to Worthy Robinson, both of Owego.

McNamara—Walsh.

Harry McNamara and Miss Katherine Walsh, both formerly of Towanda, were united in marriage at Ithaca on Thursday of last week, by Rev. Father Harrigan. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. MacNamara of Bridge street, Towanda, while his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Walsh, who for many years lived on Towanda Hill. They have a host of friends in Towanda and vicinity, who will wish them success and happiness.

Kreider—Wright.

On Wednesday eveing, Oct. 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Wright of Beech Flats, took place a very pretty wedding, when their only daughter, Joanna Hatten, was given in marriage to Abraham Garfield Kreider of Lancaster. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with trailing pine and Autumn leaves. The stairway of the hall and the canopy under which the ceremony was performed, were pieces of real art in arrangement and color. At precisely 8 o'clock Miss Kathleen Crawford of Canton, began the wedding march, from Lohengrin, and the Rev. George W. S. Wenrick, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Canton, and the bride's pastor, waited in the parlor for the bridal party, which entered in the following order: Milton Kreider, brother of the groom, and Miss Cecila A. Wisner of Lancaster, followed by Abraham G. H. Kreider, and Miss Joanna Hatten Wright. The bride was gowned in white organdie, trimmed with lace, made princess en train and carried a shower boquet of white roses. The bride's maid wore a gown of white organdie over pink and carried a shower boquet of pink carnations. The few words that made the contracting party man and wife, were spoken and the congratulations of the relatives and friends that formed the happy company followed. The congratulations over the wedding supper of four courses followed. Mr. and Mrs. Kreider left on the 11:12 train next morning on a short trip in the South. Upon their return they will reside in Lancaster, where Mr. Kreider has a prosperous business as a marble cutter. The bride is one of Canton's popular young ladies, and the groom is one of Lancaster's popular young business men. Old shoes, rice and good wishes follow them to their new home and friends. The wedding of cut glass, silver ware, linen and furniture showed the love and good will of their many friends.

L. H. MARSH,
Re-Elected County Commissioner.

Victrola Concert.

Mrs. A. M. Baker, at her home on Third street Thursday afternoon, entertained a large company of ladies at a Victrola concert. Airs from the grand operas, with selections by the world's most noted singers, and music by Sousa's and other bands, as well as popular music comprised the program of 18 numbers. Following the concert refreshments were served. It was an afternoon of rare pleasure for those present.

Meeting at New Albany.

A Republican mass meeting was held in New Albany Saturday evening, and was very largely attended. The speakers were William Maxwell and Charles M. Culver, two well known attorneys.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

"We beat 'em to a frazzle!"

VICTORY.

The Republican victory of Tuesday exceeds al expectations in its extent and force. The swelling tide of Republicanism in Maine is over-topped by that of New York and Illinois. The jubilant note of Republican victory in the nation is answered by that of our own county, district and state. The popular verdict of the country on the presidency is made effective by the election of a Republican congress. The executive arm of the government is sustained and strengthened by a legislative branch in harmony with it. President-elect Taft will have behind him a congress responsive to his will and in accord with the policy already outlined in the campaign just ended.

It was a glorius victory, fairly won, and so overwhelming in its sweep and so crushing in its character as to leave no doubt of its meaning. By one of the most decisive verdicts in its long history the Republicanpartyhas again been placed in full control of the government and has been commissioned anew by the people to put into effect the policies for which it stands and to which it is pledged. With this new commission of power comes added responsibility and it must answer to the people for it.

Happily in its new leader the Republican party has a man of exceptional capacity. Mr. Taft is unquestionably the best equipped, in training and experience, and in wide and close contact with large affairs, of any man chosen to the presidency in the memory of this generation. He has shown his abilities as a leader and an executive by the work he has done in many responsible positions and in the many difficult administrative problems he has been called upon to solve. Before his gracious personality, his calm, clear, disentangling mind, misunderstandings are cleared up and difficulties vanish. His intellectual integrity and disinterestedness have been as unmistakable as his quiet strength, his unswerving sense of justice, his absolute honesty. He is fighting honest. He is sane and safe. In his hands the government will go forward to new achievements, to added glory and to wider influence and power among the nations of the earth.

REPUBLICANS HOLD CONGRESS.

Once more, the American people have commissioned the Republican party to control the government. While that party will have a somewhat reduced majority in the Sixty-first Congress, it will have a lead in both Houses sufficient to carry out the policies to which it is pledged by the public utterances of its candidates and to which it is bound by its platform promises.

There has been no Democratic congress since the one elected with Grover Cleveland in 1892. That Congress, the Fifty-third, contained in the Senate 44 Democrats, 38 Republicans and three Poplists, and in the House a tidal wave majority of 220 Democrats to 126 Republicans. Two years later, both branches of Congress became Republican and they have so remained.

The Roosevelt tidal wave of 1904 carried 250 Democrats into office as representatives and left only 136 Democrats; the Senate in the new Congress stood 58 to 32. The present senate has a two-thirds Republican majority, 61 to 31, and in the House there are 224 Republicans and 167 Democrats. These proportions were not so greatly changed by Tuesday's election as to relieve the majority party of its full measure of legislative responsibility.

In order to gain control of the House in the sixty-first Congress the Democrats would have to gain 29 seats over their present membership and the Republican lose an equal number. It does not appear that there will be any material change in the Senate as the result of Tuesday's election as the legislators which were chosen give an assurance that the Republicans will hold their lead in Congress and in the upper branch.

Tuesday's victory was a magnificent popular tribute to the sanity, courage and public spirit of the Republican party. Again it has been entrusted by the people with the law-making power of this great government. Congress and the President will be in harmony in 1909-11 and the great national questions which confront the country will receive wise and consistent treatment at its hands.

The State Educational commission which has been traveling through various sections of the state receiving suggestions for the new code of school laws, will meet at Harrisburg about the middle of November to commence preparation of the code. The new code will be presented to the governor just before the legislature meets.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

We congratulate the Republicans of the Fourteenth congressional district. They have won the fight, and a Republican and not a Democrat, will represent the old Wilmot-Grow congressional district in the 61st congress. This Rpublican stronghold has again taken its place in the Republican column, and will stay there for many years to come.

The Fourteenth congressional district is strongly Republican and always will be, and no Democrat can go to congress from it and stay there long. By reason of factional disturbances in the dominant party Mr. Kipp won in 1906, and the lure was fatal and led him on to defeat on Tuesday. The Democratic candidate enjoys the distinction of wealth and also longs for political preferment. An aspiration for congressional honors from the Fourteenth district is ordinarily a forlorn hope if harbored by a Democrat, but here was a Democrat who wanted to try for it, had the cash, and was willing to spend it. Such a fortunate combination might not come again in an age, and the Democracy was not slow to grasp its opportunity. The candidate was an easy mark for a hungry and starved Democracy, and the nomination went to the rich lumberman as quick and straight as lightning travels down a copper rod.

This paper will not deny that Mr. Kipp has made a nervy fight—in fact it was too nervy. He has the satisfaction of knowing that his townsmen, in Towanda where he is best known and acquaintances in many other districts for that matter, have given him a large vote, and this is no small compliment to him. We do not begrudge him the satisfaction of it, nor do we desire to detract in the least from the good name he enjoys as a private citizen. If at times our criticism of his campaign has been severe, it has been because the facts warranted and called for it.

There are one or two things which helped to "feature" the Kipp side of the campaign, and one of them is the Sayre Times-Record. Of Francisco the proprietor, the less said about him the better, as the wax-works showman said as he nodded toward his statue of Potiphar's wife. If there is a dirty trick that he hasn't played since he got his price it is because he hasn't thought of it. He claims that 19 copies of his paper were destroyed by fire at New Milford a few days ago. It would have been better for Mr. Kipp if every issue of the paper for the last two months had been destroyed as soon as it came from the press. The effect of that dirtiest of all tricks that have been known in the politics of the district may be plainly discerned in the returns from Mr. Pratt's own county—Susquehanna. It was unfortunate for Mr. Kipp that whoever conceived the idea was so blind as not to have seen the sure effect of charging such a man as Charles C. Pratt with virtually robbing the United States mail, and burning his (Kipp's) campaign literature. There is no doubt that the affair cost the Democratic candidate many votes.

In re, the boiler-plate editor. It would be unfair to hold a funeral and not mention him. He has done as well as he could, and while he and Francisco will be remembered as the twin Burchards of the second Kipp campaign, he really is not more blamable than some others. The boiler-plate editor did not come upon the stage until late in the skirmish, but when he did appear it was evident that he was great with child. The pains of labor seized him early last week and he was delivered on Wednesday, just one day before the Reporter-Journal went to press and in this last fact is one more illustration that in affairs of this kind the greatest precautions often go for naught—for it was not intended the deliverance should take place before this paper had made its weekly bow.

The Reporter-Journal immediately took charge of the child and christened it the "140-Pension-Lie," and then with no compunction of conscience, straightway strangled it to death. This was accomplished by administering one big dose of Sulloway's Syrup. It cannot be said that the parent is doing well, nor that he has been as wise as the serpent; but he is as harmless as a dove and has shown that he knows as little about steering the editorial department of a campaign as he does about United States postal laws.

But Republicans can now afford to let bygones be bygones, and give themselves up to congratulations and to the enjoyment of the victory.

A Republican president, a Republican congress and a Republican congressman, a Republican State Senator and the entire Republican county ticket are elected. Glory enough for one day, and here's three times three cheers for the G. O. P. and the whole Republican ticket.

It is well known to most persons that quite large trees can be transplanted—carried from one locality to another distant one and set in place and again made to grow. A good example of this was given at Ampere, N. J., a few days ago. The tree was an oak, sixty feet high, and with roots and adhering earth, was lifted out of its original site, carried 200 feet and successfully planted in the large hole prepared for it. Care was taken to retain all the long roots, and the ground above them was carefully removed, and they were again placed in their new home, just as they had been in their first one.

Few men realize the influence that dress has upon them. Man thinks that he is an unbiased being, open to conviction, to sound logic, to unanswerable argument. Fond delusion! He is open to nothing except to the eloquence of a few yards of silk and to the persuasion of soft laces, says the evidently youthful editor of an inter-

SPITTING PROHIBITED.

The spitting nuisance has been prohibited by law and is not quite so prominent now as it was a few years ago. Still it is in evidence. The Baltimore Sun calls attention to the fact that ladies never spit on the sidewalk or in street cars and it is right when it suggests that men would do well to imitate this excellent example. It is true that women do not chew tobacco and many men do, but the man who chews should be compelled to observe the proprieties and to do his chewing in seclusion or under proper sanitary conditions.

Another unmitigated nuisance, also a dangerous and disease-spreading practice, is the habit into which some persons have fallen of spitting on the floors of offices or private residences. It is an uncleanly and disgusting habit at best; it is also liable to spread disease among the other occupants of the room in which the offense is committed. It is surprising how common this practice is among men who ought to know better and who should govern their conduct with reference to the comfort and convenience of those with whom they are associated.

The American people cannot be indifferent to the voices of ten thousand Japanese school pupils trained to sing our National anthem on the occasion of the visit of our fleet to Tokio or to the further fact that 1,000,000 young people were taught to take part in the general greetings. These are facts that ought to make for lasting friendship and peace between the two great nations.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

Evidences of Increased Confidence Numerous—Many Mills Resume.

New York, Oct. 30.—Decided improvement is noted in most trade reports this week, especially in respect to distributive departments, says R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade. Orders have come to manufacturers more freely, in many cases accompanied by requests for immediate or very early delivery. Evidences of increased confidence are numerous, and prices are more firmly held where concessions have been offered recently without attracting buyers. Many mills have resumed after months of idleness, sufficient orders having accumulated to assure active capacity during the balance of the year, and there is a general belief that contracts will be placed freely during the next two months.

Textile mills and shoe shops make particularly good reports, and the broadening demand for pig iron testifies to the expectation that a good volume of business is coming to the steel mills. Weather conditions have stimulated retail trade, and needed rain has greatly improved the situation, especially at mills that were idle because of low water. Winter wheat prospects have also brightened, and forest fires no longer prevail. Traffic conditions show further improvement, the number of idle freight cars having decreased 18,756.

Commercial failures this week in the United States are 257 against 250 last week, 269 the preceding week and 273 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 34 against 19 last week, 27 the preceding week and 20 last year. Of failures this week in the United States 84 were in the east, 71 south, 83 west and 19 in the Pacific states, and 93 report liabilities of $5,000 or more against 87 last week. Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for October are $12,111,502, against $20,368,286 for the same period last year.

MAGIC GLASS.

A Curious Mirror That May Be Made Transparent.

One of the most curious inventions of this age is what is called platinized glass. A piece of glass is coated with an exceedingly thin layer of a liquid charged with platinum and then raised to a red heat. The platinum becomes united to the glass in such a way as to form an odd kind of mirror.

The glass has not really lost its transparency, and yet if one places it against a wall and looks at it he sees his image as in an ordinary looking glass. But when light is allowed to come through the glass from the other side, as when it is placed in a window, it appears perfectly transparent, like ordinary glass.

By constructing a window of platinized glass one could stand close behind the panes in an unilluminated room and behold clearly everything going on outside, while passersby looking at the window would behold only a fine mirror or set of mirrors in which their own figures would be reflected, while the person inside remained invisible.

In France various tricks have been contrived with the aid of this glass. In one a person, seeing what appears to be an ordinary mirror, approaches it to gaze upon himself. A sudden change in the mechanism sends light through the glass from the back, whereupon it instantly becomes transparent, and the startled spectator finds himself confronted by some grotesque figure that had been hidden behind the magic glass.—New York Tribune.

No one loves the man whom he fears.—Aristotle.

Smart Set English.

The speech of the smart man and woman sufficiently betrays the modern attitude. To speak good English is middle class. The modern vocabulary is very small, and the greater part of it is composed of slang.—Black and White.

Stuck to It.

Her Husband—If a man steals, no matter what it is, he will live to regret it. His Wife—During our courtship you used to steal kisses from me. Her Husband—Well, you heard what I said.

REST FROM WORRY.

"More rain, more rest," ran the old harvest proverb, and it is literally true in another sense at this time, hundreds of years after the thought was framed. There is more rest because of the rain that has fallen within the last 48 hours, but it is to a great degree rest to the alarms of the sensibilities; rest to the half acknowledged fears; rest to the veiled superstitions and the unknown forebodings.

The old man who succinctly remarked that no drouth ever lasted forever yet, had the best of it in his confident belief in a continuance of the old order of things, but there were fearful souls who during the last few weeks have dwelt darkly upon the possibilities that might await the children of men if rain should disappear from the face of the earth. They have looked anxiously at the clouds, have brooded in melancholy thought while the beautiful calm weather remained, and forgot to enjoy the belated Summer, regarding the sun as a malignant foe rather than a friend.

So to those who take their pleasures sadly, the gentle rain in its insufficiency has come as a rest to that sort of worry and will leave them opportunity to worry over something else.

NATIONAL ANTHEMS.

Another attempt to secure a worthy National anthem is to be made by the National Institute of Arts and Letters, of which Prof. W. M. Sloane is president, and Robert Underwood Johnson is secretary. Substantial prizes are to be offered for words and music, so that an enormous and enthusiastic response is anticipated.

No doubt these anticipations will be realized in both these respects, but already the judges are entitled to sympathy. Of trash, poetic and musical, there will be bales; here and there compositions of some merit will certainly be found—but nobody who has watched the progress and results of similar competitions will scarcely dare to dream that even a single hymn and music will be submitted that will be accepted by the American people, even should they pass the judges. Hundreds of attempts have been made to write National anthems and to join them to appropriate music—but in this country, at least, those productions which have received acceptance as National hymns were not written with that purpose in view.

The State Railroad commission is considering having enforced a rule to keep passengers off the front platform of street cars. It is a rule which the passengers themselves should be willing to obey.

IS HE WORTH STUDYING?

Prof. Hillprecht of Philadelphia, an eminent assyriologist, is outdone, it is said, because a princess who is visiting his family has been quoted in an interview published in a Philadelphia newspaper. The princess is reported as saying that she had come to America to study American men, as well as our institutions, social and political. Prof. Hillprecht asserts that the princess has made no statement of any kind to any newspaper writer. "She never said," he declares, "that she is especially interested in American men." The professor says he will appeal to the German ambassador at Washington to protect the princess from further misrepresentation in the newspapers. Of course, we accept Prof. Hillprecht's denial as conclusive. At the same time, now that the princess is visiting this country, we suggest that the American man is a fairly interesting subject for study. "The proper study of mankind," wrote Pope, "is man." If the princess agrees with the English poet, she will not ignore our male inhabitants while she is in the United States. For, while they are not at all boastful or conceited, they have, in a modest way, contributed no little to the greatness of this nation. Therefore, they are not a negligible quantity, and if the princess is studying our institutions she must take account of the male element in our civilization, unless she is a suffragette.—Baltimore Sun.

CEASAR IN JOURNALISM.

Who was the first man in history to conceive the idea of a journalism intended for the people? asks the editor of Collier's Weekly; and he answers himself, saying it is impossible to make a plausible claim for the many-sided experimenter who conquered Gaul, led the democratic party in Rome, and became her absolute ruler. Without the invention of printing, Democracy as we know it now would never have been possible. In Rome the news of the day was obtained by the rich through a number of copies, made by slaves, of a set of notes about current events. Caesar, at that time making his way as leader of the popular party, conceived the idea of furnishing the news to all the people. His method was to have the facts written on walls here and there throughout the city. This writing was after a time erased and newer information was substituted. This first popular newspaper, it will be observed, was furnished to the readers without cost.

TURK AND TYPEWRITER.

Those frisky juveniles, the "Young Turks," have at last induced the conservative but nervous Abdul Hamid—long may his nerves increase!—to let down the bars and admit the typewriter into Turkey. They want the blessings and amusements of Occidental civilization, and they want them at once. This news is brought to a waiting world by the dry old consular reports, but there is nothing dry about the news itself, says the Baltimore Sun.

Wherever the typewriter goes there also springs up the typewriter girl. If the Turkish girl wants to play the typewriter, she will have to take off her face curtains, put away the cushions and get down to business. You see, you can't sit on a divan in a comic opera costume and manipulate a typewriter. You have to take off your turban and your bangles and a few yards of silk clothes and get close to the machine, where you can tickle the keyes with great rapidity.

If the ladies in the harem demand the right to go out and work, the demand doubtless will be granted. But you can picture the disturbance in the store or factory of the Ottoman merchant when a fascinating young Caucasian or a dark-eyed Constantinople houri invades and ornaments his office? It must mean a "new era for woman," as the suffragists say, with a good deal more freedom and a great deal more work.

The coal supply of the Phillipines has been found to be much larger than was anticipated and of a uniformly good character. It is stated that a large vein crosses the entire group of islands, and it has been traced in one vicinity for 25 miles. In course of time it is quite likely that the Philippines will turn out to be as profitable as Alaska. The varieties of opinion, political and other, which exist in the world make it all the more interesting.

ANENT GOOD ROADS.

The Scientific American of Oct. 24 has a sensible and timely article upon the maintenance of roads which is worthy of general attention. "In the present campaign of good-roads education," it says, "more attention should be paid to the vital function of road maintenance. Our present system of building a first class road and then letting it go to ruin as fast as wind, weather and traffic can wreck it, is the height of folly and extravagance." The article contrasts this wasteful American system with the careful repairing of European roads. The European system is the keeping up of roads by constant work. Repairs are in progress all the time by skilled workmen. The solitary road repairer, with his wheelbarrow, pick and shovel, and a little pile of broken stone and topdressing, is a familiar sight on the roads in the progressive countries of Europe. Each section of a road is in charge of a repairer, and is inspected by him daily. On detecting a low spot, where water may collect, he makes immediate repairs.

TOWANDA, PA., NOVEMBER 5, 1908.

SABBATH SCHOOL WORKERS IN CONVENTION AT WYALUSING.

Interesting Session Held in Presbyterian Church Last Thursday.

The Wyalusing Rocket gives the following account of the meeting of Sabbath school workers at that place on Thursday, Oct. 29:

The annual convention of the Bradford County Sunday School association was held in the Presbyterian church of this place on Thursday of this week. At Canton on Tuesday and Wednesday the convention for the western part of the county was held, at which the attendance was not quite so large as was expected, owing doubtless to the rain having interferred with the plans of those who desired to attend. But at Wyalusing the delegates from the eastern end of the county turned out in force, there being fully one hundred in attendance besides the many workers who were interested in the work of the Sunday school.

The program as printed in these columns was carried out. On Thursday, after brief introductory remarks by President Wilkes and the report of the various county officers, came a "round table" conference, conducted by Deemer Beidleman, the state field worker. This brought out many practical ideas for impressing Bible truths upon the minds of the young and winning them for Christ. Rev. Harned of the American Bible society for this district, at this session explained the work of the society and asked for the co-operation of Sunday school workers in seeing that every home in Bradford county was supplied with a Bible.

In the afternoon came excellent addresses on "Teacher Training" by Miss Inez Taylor of Laceyville; "Catching Men," by Deemer Beidleman, and "What can be done for Missions in the Sabbath School" by Rev. J. F. Warner, after which came the reports of the committees and the election of officers. The officers for 1909, being as follows:

President—Rev. J. S. Wilkes, Stevensville.

Vice president—Rev. E. M. Mills, Towanda.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Newell G. Corbin, Potterville.

Corresponding Secretary—F. H. Ott, Towanda.

Stat. Secretary—Miss Martha Wickham, Towanda.

Treasurer—Louis Gillette, Towanda.

Home Dept. Supt.—Mrs. Emma Musser, Canton.

Primary Supt.—Miss Hannah Waltman, New Albany.

Normal Supt.—Rev. C. A. Brady, Canton.

The evening session opened with a song service conducted by Mr. Henry Overpeck of this borough, after which came the address on the Home Department by Miss Martha Robinson, which was of especial interest to those who aim to secure the best possible results in their class work, and the address on temperance by Rev. C. H. Brandt, district superintendant of the Anti-Saloon League. His address gave much valuable instruction as to the manner of teaching the quarterly lessons on temperance, and he urged that these lessons be used as the basis in inculcating strong temperance convictions in the minds of the scholars.

PATHETIC SUICIDE.

Binghamton Woman Ends Life in the Presence of Children.

Saturday evening, at her home in Binghamton, Mrs. Charles McGowan killed herself by drinking carbolic acid in the presence of her children.

After an unhappy married life, she and her husband separated last Summer. Since then she had been ill and despondent, and had a hard struggle to earn a living for her daughter, aged ten and son, aged eight.

Saturday evening she kissed the children good-bye, and the children in astonishment saw her raise a bottle to her lips and drink its contents. She fell to the floor onconscious and the children called a man who lived in the house. He at once summoned physicians, but the woman was past help and died in a few hours.

His Troubles Ended.

By drinking carbolic acid in his coffee, Daniel McReynolds of Wayne county, committed suicide last week, being driven to the deed by sad circumstances. His son was killed recently, and to cap his troubles a son-in-law recently entered suit against him, having his home levied on.

BUGLES CALL TO ARMS.

William Lamphere Writes of Life in the United States Army.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lamphere of Myersburg, received a letter from their son, William Lamphere, who is serving three years in the army and is now with the troops at Camp Atascadero, California. Thinking it might be interesting to the people to hear of war life of today, Soldier William Lamphere has sent to The Review the following letter:

"We are 20 miles from San Francisco and the detachment I am in is composed of 6,000 cavalry, 4,000 artillery and 7,000 "dough boys," besides signal corps, hospital corps and engineer corps. We received a taste of real war life on October 10, when Col. Maus caused the bugles to sound "to arms" at 3:30 o'clock in the morning. It came as a complete surprise as the Commander had taken no one into his confidence, but withing 20 minutes after the bugles had awakened the sleepers, they were in the field ready for battle. The artillery was called also and the whole force of the camp set out toward Henry ranch, where the enemy was making an attack, having approached by marching through the night. The troops swung out in battle line and with sharp maneuvering and the employment of much strategy, succeeded in driving back the invading forces. It was just time for the regular reveille when the victorious troops got back to camp, refreshed but ravenously hungry, after the early morning fighting. The war is between the counties of San Louis Obispo and Montgomery, and the troops are defending the rights and honor of San Luis Obispo. Every one, including Col. Maus, agreed that the battle was a 'great victory for San Luis Obispo."

Re-Elected Member of State Legislature.

SAD ACCIDENT.

Elmira Youngster Loses Arm as Result of Hallowe'en Prank.

At Elmira last Saturday evening Arthur Crandall, aged 20 years, was standing beside the Second street crossing of the Erie waiting for a switch engine to pass. A gang of boys, engaged in following Hallowe'en pranks ran passed him, and as they passed one of the boys gave him a hard shove. He stumbled and fell his left arm striking across the rail directly under the engine and it was cut off above the elbow. The boys did not stop and it is not thought they noticed that anything serious had happened to Crandall; neither did the engineer see him.

Crandall sprang to his feet and ran for the Mansion House, near, and as he reached it he fell into a chair and weakly said: "I've got my arm off," then fainted as the blood poured from the mangled stump. Surgeons were quickly obtained and stopped the flow of blood so that his life was saved.

Got Pin in His Throat.

Otis McCracken, an elderly man employed on the Tunkhannock street commissioner's force, got a pin lodged in his throat on Monday, and thus far all efforts to have it removed have proved futile. Feeling hungry, he went to the pantry for a bite, and finding a piece of pie, ate it. A pin had accidentally fallen into the pie and it became stuck in his throat. The surgeons here refused to undertake to remove it, and he went to the Hahnemann hospital at Scranton that night, but a telephone message from there Thursday stated that the surgeons refused to operate upon him and he was expected home that night. His condition is a serious one, as he can swallow only with pain and difficulty, and must live upon liquid food.—Tunkhanock Republican-New Age.

Honor Roll.

Pupils of the East Towanda school who have neither been tardy nor absent for the second month ending Oct. 28, are Clare Reynolds, Maude Seebick, Daisy Sill, Harold Vanness, Chauncey Seebick, Helen Ross, Angie Hopkins, Ira Vanness, Leonard Platt, Clarence Hess, William Platt, Henry Green, Alfred Green, Floyd Hopkins, Francis Watson, Mable Gard, Lee Allis and Sebastian Zurn.

Honor Roll.

The following pupils of the Liberty Corners school were perfect in attendance for the second month, ending Oct. 28: Nellie Chilson, Alice Bowman, Vera Hollon, Lina Scott, Alice Crimmins, Stella Elliott, Flossie Gale, Dorothy Lewis, Frank Cummings. Margaret Burke, teacher.

SOCIETY REORGANIZED.

Bradford County Bible Society Perfects Organization.

At a meeting held at the home of F. H. Ott, Sunday, Oct. 25, for the purpose of re-organizing the Bradford County Bible society, Rev. H. G. Harned of Scranton, superintendent of the Northeastern branch of the Pennsylvania Bible society, was present and made statements in regard to the matter, with the result that the following officers were elected:

President, Judge, A. C. Fanning; first vice-president, Rev. E. A. Gernant; second vice-president, C. C. Smith; secretary, Rev. H. A. Abbott; treasurer, F. H. Ott.

It was also recommended that the presidents of the sub-districts of the County, Sunday School association be on the board of managers of its Bible society.

At a meeting of the officers of the re-organized society held in the office of Judge Fanning, on Oct. 26, Rev. H. G. Harned was endorsed as superintendent of Bible distribution in Bradford county.

It was also moved that the matter be brought before the Bradford County Sunday School association at Wyalusing on Oct, 29. asking that association to co-operate with the Bible society in helping to place a Bible in the hands of every person.

Dog Convicted.

Says the Troy Gazette-Register: "To determine the guilt or innocence of Burtis Megie's dog of participation in the killing of about 40 sheep of the W. H. Johns flock last week, the Troy township auditors met in the office of David Fanning. After taking testimony and listening to council, the decision was against the dog. Under the law Mr. Megie must kill his dog or himself pay an equitable share of the $230 or thereabouts allowed the flock owner. He would be liable also as the owner of a sheep-killing dog should other losses occur in the neighborhood."

Kennedy Held to Court.

Patrick Kennedy, who is now in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on the charge of aggravated assault and battery, and attempting to kill Dr. D. Leonard Pratt, was arraigned before 'Squire Orcutt on Monday of this week on a similar charge preferred by County Detective C. E. McCracken. Kennedy was held to court on the second charge, and will probably be tried on both counts at the same time. J. N. Califf, Esq., represented the defendant, while W. P. Wilson represented the commonwealth.

TWO MEN SENTENCED

Prisoners Who Tried to Break Jail Go to the Penitentiary.

BETTIS AND GOTTLEIB GET SALTY DOSES.

Prisoners Who Attacked Deputy Sheriff Ward Will Know Better Next Time—Bettis Gets Four Years and Gottlieb Two and One Half.

Joseph Bettis, the one armed man, and George Gottlieb, the men who attacked Deputy Sheriff Ward a few weeks ago and made a desperate attempt to escape from the Bradford county jail, will have plenty of time to reflect upon their conduct, for Monday they were both sentenced to the Eastern penitentiary by Judge Fanning. Bettis will serve four years, pay a fine of $50 and the costs, while Gottlieb will serve two years and one half, besides paying a fine of $50 and the costs.

Bettis was in the county jail awaiting extradition to New York state, where he is wanted for horse stealing, and Gottlieb was serving a sentence of six months for assaulting a Sayre man, when with Fred Northrop, now in the Owego jail, they conceived the plan of overpowering Deputy Sheriff Ward and breaking jail. Bettis and Gottlieb made a brutal attack upon Mr. Ward, but failed to accomplish their aim, Sheriff Griffin appearing upon the scene in the midst of the fight in the prison.

They were charged with aggravated assault and battery and breaking prison, and at a hearing before 'Squire Meredith were held to the next grand jury. Monday they were arraigned before Judge Fanning in court and pleaded guilty to the charges. Besides his three year sentence on the aggravated assault and battery charge Bettis was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary on the charge of jail breaking, term to commence at the expiration of his three year sentence, thus his term will be four years in the pen. Gottlieb was let off with a suspended sentence on the jail breaking charge, so he will have but two years and a half to spend in the penitentiary.

Other Cases.

Myron Kessler, charged with assault and battery, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the cvosts, or give security to the sheriff for the same within 20 days.

Carl Zimmer also pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, or give security for the payment of the same within 20 days.

TROOPERS FOR TOWANDA.

Three State Constables Will Spend Winter in City of Promise.

A member of the State Constabulary was in Towanda yesterday and made arrangements with E. F. Leahy, proprietor of the American house on Bridge street, for the board of three men and the care of three horses during the winter. The men are state troopers and they will come to the City of Promise the latter part of this week, and take up their residence at the American house.

Each day these troopers will ride out into the rural sections, keeping a lookout for illegal hunters and others who are apt to violate the laws of the state.

The placing of troopers in Towanda is in keeping with the plan of the state department for the patrolling of the entire state. Heretofore the constables have been quartred at Wyoming, the rest of the state seeing but very litlle of them during the winter months.

Killed at Hallstead.

On Sunday afternoon at Hallstead in Susquehanna county, one of the oldest Lackawanna engineers and prominent citizens of that place, Miles Fisher, 56 years of age, was killed by being run down by a switch engine in the yards. He had started to go to his home from the roundhouse, when he stepped around in front of an engine standing on one track directly in front of another. He was run over and instantly killed, his body being badly mutilated.

Wilcox Reunion.

The first annual reunion of the Briton Wilcox family met on October 30, at the home of the parents at Cold Springs. The whole family, ten children and thirteen grandchildren, were present. It was a happy homecoming and everyone enjoyed a fine time and a good dinnr. A hunt, and music and singing helped pass the time. They separated hoping to all meet again next year.

Standing Stone School.

The following pupils of the Standing Stone school have been perfect in attendance during the second month of school, ending Nov. 2: Alice Felker, Daisy Verbyck, Raymond Taylor, Ruth Chapman, Lidia Felker, Mable Lane, Elizabeth Taylor, Blanche Roof, Ralph Taylor, Tillie Bennett, Emma Verbyck, Ephton Roof, John Gordon, Clarence Bennett. Elizabeth Sullivan, teacher.

After Game.

James McKean and Louis Frisbie of Towanda, Ed. Ellis, Fred Elliott and Oran Benjamin of Durell, spent Monday on the mountains of Asylum township in the search of game and were very successful. Messrs. McKean and Frisbie were the guests of Ed. Ellis during the evening.

NEARLY ASPHYXIATED.

Well Known Milan People Had Narrow Escape.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Z. Shaw narrowly escaped asphyxiation at their home in Milan, Monday night, by gas escaping from a coal stove.

For several months they have been living at the home of their son-in-law and Monday concluded to move back to their own house. In the afternoon Mr. Shaw built up a fire in a coal stove and both retired early in the evening. A few hours after retiring, Mrs. Shaw, who is practically helpless from a paralytic stroke sustained several months ago, woke her husband to assist her to another room. Mrs. Shaw fell over in a semi-unconscious condition, and her husband called to the housekeeper. By the time the latter arrived Mr. Shaw was also under the influence of the poisonous flumes.

The housekeeper realizing what was the matter raised the windows and went to a neighbor's for help. Mr. Shaw and Mrs. Shaw are not much the worse for their experience today.

NEW STAMPS EXPECTED.

Postoffice Will Soon Place on Sale a Series of New Designs.

The local postoffise expects that the new issue of postage stamps will be put on sale here about Nov. 18. The denominations are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 13, 15, and 50 cents and $1. The postoffice department says that the $2 and $5 stamps will be discontinued after the present supply is exhausted.

On the one cent stamp is the head of Benjamin Franklin in profile from Houdon's bust. All the other denominations bear the head of George Washington in profile from Houdon's bust.

The border designs of all the denominations are identical, the head being an ellipse on end with laurel leaves on either side. Above the head are the words " U. S. Postage," below it the denomination. The size of the stamps is the same as that of the stamps now on sale.

Honor Roll.

The pupils of the Macedonia school who were neither absent nor tardy during the school month ending Oct. 27, are Harold Westbrook, Daniel Benjamin, Ralph Vanness, Harry Ackley, Stephen Jennings, Mahlon Hicks, Penrose Powers, Ruth Jennings, Mabel Jennings, Laura Bellows, Hannah Benjamin, Achash Barnes, Hazel Ackley, Nancy Powers, Anna Wheeler, Augusta Stevens, Harriet Powers and Mary Westbrook. Gladys Taylor, teacher.

Wheelbarrow Bet.

Charles H. Saxton, the most prominent Republican in Granville township, and Francis E. Shoemaker, the most prominent Democrat in the same town, have made an election wager whereby if Bryan wins Mr. Saxton will ride his opponent in a wheelbarrow from Granville Summit to Windfall, a distance of about a mile. On the other hand, if Taft wins, Mr. Shoemaker will perform the same service for Mr. Haxton.

Old "Nell' is Dead.

"Nell," the black mare which for the past 30 years, has served faithfully and well the family of W. F. Dittrich, is dead. "Nell" has been declining for a long time and on Thursday of this week, was sent hence through the merciful agency of a bullet fired from a rifle. There are but few people in Towanda, who have not in days gone by rode behind this faithful animal.

Bears Are Plentiful.

A Wellsboro butcher displayed three fine fat bears in his market, all within a week, and all killed by Alex. Welfling of Gaines. Bears have been so plenty in Potter county this fall that one which dressed 125 pounds was killed in the Black Forest a few days ago with a weapon no more formidable than a club, while he was munching chestnuts.

PRIZES FOR CORN GROWERS.

Bradford County Agriculturists Should Get in on This.

Those who have good corn should not fail to select ten ears to show at the third annual corn show to be held by the Pennsylvania Live Stock Breeders association at Harrisburg, Jan. 26-29 next. Eight silver cups, ranging in value from $25 to $50, will be offered in the various classes and 45 cash prizes in addition. A $50 cup is offered for the best show of 100 ears made by any subordinate grange in the state. Save your best corn for this show.

The annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, the Pennsylvania Dairy Union and the Pennsylvania Live Stock Breeders' association will be held on these dates, and the best talent in the country will be on hand to give instruction and demonstrate. Exhibits of dairy products for which liberal prizes are offered will be a feature, and the Pennsylvania Experiment Station and the State Live Stock Sanitary Board will also make exhibits worth seeing.

For corn entry blanks, prize lists, etc., address secretary E. S. Bayard, East End, Pittsburg, Pa. There are no entrance fees. All Pennsylvania corn growers are invited to participate in the show, which is free in every particular.

HIS FIRST MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

New Justice of the Peace Had Bother But Tied the Knot All Right.

A country paper up the state tells of a justice of the peace who was called upon to perform a marriage ceremony. It was his first attempt and he was at loss as to how to proceed, but he rose to the occosion. He demanded the happy couple to stand and be sworn as follows:

"Do you each solemnly swear that you will obey the constitution of the United States and of the State of Pennsylvania and perform the duties of your office to the best of your ability, so help you God?" The couple nodded assent and the justice continued: "Then by the power vested in me by the strong arm of the law I pronounce you man and wife, now and forever, and you will stand committed until the fine and costs are paid, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls."

WORK OF MISCREANT.

Considerable Property Damaged and Destroyed in Ulster.

Some unprincipled wretch has been getting in his nefarious work in Ulster. On the night of Oct. 26, the Van Dyke House barn was entered, and the top cut from a carriage owned by Dr. Dailey. The doctor's medicine case which was in the carriage, was taken to the railroad track where it was cut open, completely ruining it for practical service.

On Wednesday night of this week a Lehigh car on the Ulster switch, containing 17 bags of millett owned by O. F. Ayer, the Ulster miller, was broken open, and 14 bags were cut and slashed, letting the seed out on the floor, and two bags were emptied out on the ground, causing quite a loss to Mr. Ayer, as millett seed is valuable.

The party guilty of these two outrages is suspected and the chances are he will be brought to justice.

Viewers Appointed.

In the proceeding for more than 60 foot right of way, for the P., B. and E., through nine pieces of land in Canton township, the court has appointed the following gentlemen viewers: M. P. Murray, E. M. Tuton, Willard A. Brown, Guy W. Welles, Bradley Kinney, J. L. Ellsworth and R. H. Laning.

Challenge Quoit Pitchers.

Having defeated the best quoit pitchers in Towanda, I hereby challenge any quoit pitcher in Bradford county, who duplicates my claim to the championship of the county to pitch a series of games on the Kinney house grounds. Pitchers in Athens and Sayre please take notice. Winfield Scott Simpson, Towanda.

NEW ALBANY FATALITY.

DeWitt Schultz Killed by Train While Going Home From Work.

The New Albany correspondent of this paper sends the following particulars of a fatality at that place on Wednesday, Oct. 28:

"A very sad accident occurred at this place on Wednesday evening, as DeWitt Shultz, who worked in Billings & Kefdar's hay barn, was on his way home from work, he was run over and killed by a freight train at a point just below the depot. Mr. Shultz had been accustomed to walk the track on his way to and from work and it is presumed that he did not hear the approaching train, as he stepped back out of the way of a car that was being switched. He lived only a few minutes after being injured. One limb was cut off and he was crushed internally. Deceased leaves a widow and one son besides several brothers and sisters. He was an honest, hard-working man and has been in the employ of the above firm for a number of years. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Acker having charge of the services which were held in the M. E. church. Interment was made in Overton cemetery.

Shot Rival to Save Suitor.

A news dispatch from Wiliamsport says: "In order to free her lover, Victorio Gargano, from the Cameron county jail, where she is confined on a charge of shooting Luigi Sanibaldi, a rival, Maria Lippoli Wednesday confessed to the police that she, and not Gargano, had shot Sanibaldi. She said that she ran away with Gargano to Driftwood, where Sanibaldi followed them and wanted her to marry him. Her refusal caused Sanibaldi to clutch her throat and she shot him. Sanibaldi is wounded badly, but is expected to recover.

Chance for Charity.

Mrs. Mars, of the local Salvation Army, has two small children which she is caring for until homes can be secured for them. The children were left in charge of Mrs. Mars by their parents, who are so destitute that they could not care for them. This is the line of work the local Salvation Army is engaged in besides preaching the gospel on the streets and in the hall. Every person who can, should lend a hand to this noble cause. Send a donation to the Army headquarters today.

LAND OF THE CROSSBOW.

The Deadly Poisoned Arrows of the Lissoo Sharpshooters.

On the wild frontier between China and British Burma is a barbarous tribe which has no civilized supervision. George Forrest, an English traveler, thus describes the chief weapon of these people: "If I had to suggest a title for a book on the upper Salwin I should call it 'The Land of the Crossbow,' which is the characteristic weapon of the country and the Lissoo tribe. Every Lissoo with any pretensions to chic possesses at least two of these weapons—one for everyday use in hunting, the other for war. The little children play with miniature crossbows. The men never leave their huts for any purpose whatever without their crossbows. When they go to sleep the 'nukung' is hung over their heads, and when they die it is hung over their graves. The largest crossbows have a span of fully five feet and require a pull of fully thirty-five pounds to string them. The bow is made of a species of wild mulberry of great toughness and flexibility. The stock, some four feet long in the war bows, is usually of wild plum wood. The string is of plaited hemp and the trigger of bone. The arrow, of sixteen to eighteen inches, is of split bamboo about four times the thickness of an ordinary knitting needle, hardened and pointed. The actual point is bare for a quarter to one-third of an inch, then for fully an inch the arrow is stripped to half its thickness, and on this portion poison is placed.

"The poison is invariably a decoction expressed from the tubers of a species of aconitum which grows on those ranges at an altitude of 8,000 to 10,000 feet. The poison is mixed with resin or some vegetable gum to the consistency of putty and is then smeared on the notched point. The 'feather' is supplied by a strip of bamboo leaf folded into a triangular form and tied in a notch at the end of the arrow, with the point of the angle outward. The reduction in thickness of the arrow where the poison is placed causes the point to break off in the body of any one whom it strikes, and, as each carries enough poison to kill a cart horse, a wound is invariably fatal. Free and immediate incision is the usual remedy when wounded on a limb or fleshy part of the body, but at Chengka the uncle of the Laowo chief showed us a preparation which resembled opium dross and which he said was an effective antidote.

"With few exceptions the Lissoo seemed to us to be arrant cowards, but the crossbow and poisoned arrow are certainly most diabolical weapons. An arrow from a war bow will pierce a deal board an inch thick at seventy or eighty yards. Some of the Tsekou natives were so expert that they could hit a mark four inches in diameter repeatedly at sixty to eighty yards. As no one goes anywhere without his crossbow and his bearskin quiver full of poisoned arrows and as every village is at feud with every other village mutual suspicion is inevitable. In open fight the Lissoo are usually careful to keep at a respectful distance from each other and behind oxhide shields which protect the whole of the body. But if battle is rare, murder and sudden death by ambush in the jungle are common."

Drank and Remembered.

A porter in a big New York warehouse in Greenwich street was recently discharged for getting drunk and losing a valuable parcel. The discharge sobered him instantly, coming as a sudden hard shock. He said he would take the oath never to touch liquor again, but his pleadings for reinstatement were unheeded. He searched everywhere for the parcel, but could not recollect what disposition he had made of it. Of his honesty there had never been a question in twenty years. Overcome by the loss of his place, he got violently drunk and while in this condition recollected where he had left the parcel and went and recovered it.—New York Times.

Where Willie Was.

The professor (at the dinner table)—Oh, by the way, Mrs. Chopsticks, have you seen your little boy Willie lately? Mrs. Chopsticks—No, professor, I have not seen him since 10 o'clock, and I can't imagine what has become of him. In fact, I am very much worried about him. Professor—Well, seeing Martha pour me out that glass of water just now reminded me of something that I had on my mind to tell you some time ago, but which unfortunately escaped my memory. It was just about 10 o'clock, I think, that I saw little Willie fall down the well.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sympathy For the Orphans.

An elephant while stamping through the jungle one day quite unintentionally stepped upon a mother bird, crushing it to death. Hearing the cries of the little brood in the bushes near by, she sought out the nest and with a sympathetic sigh said: "Poor little things! I've been a mother myself. I'll keep you warm." And she then proceeded to sit upon the nest.—From George T. Lanigan's Fable, "The Kind Hearted She Elephant."

BROKER KILLS MOTHER AND SELF

Double Tragedy In Ansonia Hotel, New York.

CAUSE OF ACT IS NOT KNOWN

Bodies of Son and Mother Found by Latter's Sister-in-law, Who Afterward Collapses—Mrs. Veit Found on Bed In Night Robe With Bullet In Head—Her Son, J. Nelson Veit, Is Discovered In Bathroom With Gas Tube In His Mouth.

New York, Nov. 4.—J. Nelson Veit, a broker of 52 Broadway, a member of a very wealthy New York family, shot his mother to death and then committed suicide by gas at their apartments in the Ansonia hotel. The bodies were found—the mother's in her bed with a bullet wound in her head and the son's in the bathroom with a gas tube in his mouth—by Mrs. Veit's sister-in-law, Miss Anna Veit. The younger woman notified the hotel managers and then collapsed. By the time the coroner and the police had begun an investigation she was in such a hysterical condition that they could learn little from her, and she was being treated by the house physician of the hotel.

Don't Know Cause of Tragedy.

The cause of the tragedy is not known to the hotel managers.

Just as soon as the police were notified Captain Reidy of the West Sixty-eighth street station went to the hotel with Detectives Crowly and Walsh. They insisted on seeing Miss Veit, and they talked with her, but she was in such a condition of collapse that she could give them a very poor account.

They were followed shortly by Dr. Lehane, a coroner's physician. He made an examination of the bodies and found that both were cold, which showed that the tragedy must have occurred hours before the time that Miss Veit found the bodies. The mother lay on the bed in her nightgown with a bullet in her head.

Smashing in the bathroom door, the police found the son on the floor with a gas tube reaching from a small stove to his mouth. Near him was the revolver with two chambers empty, indicating that he had fired two shots. On the hurried examination Dr. Lehane found only one wound.

Son's Deliberate Death.

The son, who was about twenty-seven years old, had gone about his own death deliberately. He had locked both doors, placed his coat and vest on a chair in the bathroom and then rolled up the rug and placed it under his head. He lay down with the tube in his mouth, and as there was no escape for the gas he died very quickly.

Mr. Veit was a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

SANTA CLAUS TO FLEET.

The Celtic Will Meet Battleships With Load of Good Cheer.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Loaded with the materials for a gigantic American Christmas dinner that will be borne halfway around the world, the supply ship Celtic will sail from New York Dec. 12 to carry cheer to the 14,000 odd men on the battleship fleet. The navy department has issued the necessary authority to load the Celtic with plentiful supplies of American turkies, barrels of New England apples, cranberries, raisins, celery, nuts and plenty of the ingredients that enter into those two American institutions, the hot mince and the pumpkin pies.

The loading of the vessel will begin at once, and the fleet will probably be met by the navy Santa Claus in the Mediterranean, in all likelihood at Gibraltar.

AN ACCURATE CLOCK.

The Timepiece In the Observatory of Columbia University.

In the observatory of Columbia university is one of the most accurate clocks in the world. It has run for several months with a mean error of only fifteen-thousandths of a second and a maximum error of thirty-thousandths of a second per day. That means that it does not vary more than half a second a month, or six seconds a year.

Compare this with the first pocket timepiece, the "animated egg of Nuremberg," which required winding twice a day and varied an hour and a half in the same time! Compare it with some of the highest priced watches manufactured today, which often vary more than ten seconds a week, and you will have some idea of the refinements in the science of measuring time. Yet even this accuracy is surpassed by some famous timepieces, if the trade magazines are to be believed. There have been accounts in them of clocks or watches that have varied less than a second in periods as long as ten years.

The clock at the University of Columbia is an astronomical clock. It is surrounded by a glass case in which a partial vacuum is maintained, and in order that the case may not be opened or disturbed the winding is done automatically by electricity. The clock is set up in a room especially constructed to keep it free from jar or vibration. The temperature and barometric conditions are maintained practically constant, and every possible precaution is taken to minimize the errors of the running mate.—New York World.

QUOIT CLUB BANQUET.

'Squire Meredith Entertains Champion Simpson and Others.

The Towanda Quoit club, which numbers among its members, Winfield Scott Simpson, champion of Bradford county, was tendered a banquet at the Kinney House Saturday evening, Justice of the Peace John Meredith being host for the occasion. One week ago Saturday Mr. Meredith and Mr. Simpson pitched a series of games for the championship of the county, Mr. Simpson winning. One of the stipulations of the agreement entered into before the game was that the loser should stand the expense of a banquet for the members of the club, and it was the carrying out of this part of the compact, which made Saturday evening one of real enjoyment for the members of the now far famed Towanda Quoit club.

As good a banquet as mortal men ever gathered around was served, Mrs. Kinney sustaining her excellent reputation of being a satisfier of the most fastidious appetite. The menu embraced everything from fried chicken along the line to a tempting desert, and to say that the guests did justice to the repast is but expressing it mildly.

Following the disposing of the good things, J. Andrew Wilt, as toastmaster, called upon the guests for remarks, all responding gracefully, adding to the enjoyment and interest of the occasion.

As one of the speakers so well said: "The Towanda Quoit club is not an organization for financial gain; its grounds are not for gambling, wrangling or other unpleasantries, but a place where men gather and indulge in the exhilarating and beneficial exercise of tossing quoits. Some have become expert, and in regard to the championship won by Mr. Simpson, it is very doubtful if there is a man in Bradford county who can defeat him."

The Quoit club is an organization which Towandians should be justly proud of for in its membership, are citizens of the best class, men who enjoy athletic sports and games for the fun there is in it. Landlord James Kinney is deserving of great credit for the establishing and maintaining of the grounds which now have become the meeting place of champion pitchers.

Those present at the banquet were W. S. Simpson, John Meredith, J. E. Graham, Thomas Meredith, I. McPherson, Edward Walker, C. B. Maryott, J. A. Wilt, James Kinney, Sr., Barney Kinney and A. E. Coolbaugh, members of the club, Mr. Sutton of Scranton, a guest of honor, and U. G. Baker, of The Daily Review.

SAVED THE GIRL.

An Old Time Adventure With Solomon Island Cannibals.

One day on a Solomon beach a little girl ran to me and, before I was aware of it, placed my foot on her neck. One knows what this means well enough. In hot war it means that if a chief allows his foot to rest on the defeated one's neck the man's life is safe, but he is a slave forever, rescue or no rescue. I was puzzled at the child's action. It was soon explained. Shortly afterward down came a lot of villagers and insisted on taking the youngster. I told them what she had done. They said they did not care. Her mother was being cooked in the town, and the child should go to the ovens with her.

"Never!" I said. "What! We, who have eaten betel nut together many times, to quarrel for a mere child to whom I have granted life in your own way!" I swore they should kill me first. They replied:

"Oh, that is an easy thing to do."

A bold front was the only thing now. Luckily I had my sixteen shooter. Springing back and putting a mark on the sand with my foot, I swore I would shoot the first man who crossed it. They knew I could answer for a dozen of them or so, and, although clubs were up and bows bent, they hesitated, as well they might, and I knew I had mastered them. Then one proposed I should buy the child fairly. They cared not to fight a friend. To this I at once agreed, and a muss was thus avoided, and a mission ax worth tenpence made me a slave owner.—"Among the Man Eaters," by John Caggin.

NOTES OF GRANGES

Column For Patrons of Husbandry by A. T. Lilley.

INSPECTION NOW GOING ON

Prosperous Times are Reported in Grange Circles and Much Interest is Manifested in the Meetings—A Connecticut Celebration.

Rev. Samuel E. Eastman of Elmira, will be at Pomona Grange at Spring Hill on November 6 and address a public meeting in the evening on "The Farmer's High Calling."

Our deputy grange inspection for 1908 commenced at Granville Center Oct. 21. A good number were in attendance and the Master, S. R. Case, had all in readiness for the occasion. During the past year the sisters of this grange have made a marked improvement in the hall, and the furnishings are very neat and tasty. If the brothers happen to be very busy on their farms, the sisters "get busy too' and make everything bright and shining in the hall. One hundred members with a clear title to a good hall, a grange library and many willing workers can show what may be done by the farmers' best school, the grange.

October 23, the gates of Beech Flats grange were open for inspection of the home of 112 members of the order who reside where the soil has sufficient fertility to encourage the farmers in ways of thrift that is seen within the bounds of this grange. This grange has prided itself on its skill in the esoteric and ritualistic work so Worthy Master Wetherby has ready help in his work.

October 24, although quite lowry, we found about a score of the faithful members of Towanda Valley grange going ahead in the regular work of grange duties. Worthy Master Harry Stevens, Will Clayton, Leon Burroughs, J. S. Mott and others were on hand to render account of their stewardship. One hundred and seventeen members meeting in a neat and commodious hall are so situated that the social, educational and financial wants may be studied and used in the practical walks of life. The grange is just what its members make it. Much interest is manifest in use of library of this grange. Outsiders are permitted to use books from the library by paying a small rental. Deputy Asa S. Stevens and daughters of Iona Grange, were present, reporting their grange in a flourishing condition.

Llewellyn Lilley of Hartford, Conn., formerly of LeRoy, writes to his parents concerning the great three days' celebration held for the rebuilding of bridge across the Connecticat river: "I want to say a few words about the granges of our state. They had the best, most appropriate and most in number of floats in our industrial parade of any. The very best was an old farmer sitting on his front steps, his family around him, a large dog lying down on a gravel walk with flowers and lawn. In the rear the old lever well and old oaken bucket, with pans and churn on outside of house. All on one float drawn by four horses. Another with grain standing and in bundles. Another with degree team all togged out inside of grange rood." Then one with four pair of oxen with machinery, latest improved. All the horses had yellow blankets with P. of H. on the hip in large silk letters. They had a fine show and were cheered all along the line."

October 20, West Granville grange, in response to invitation, visited Open Hand grange and took an active part in discussions and social entertainment. "Mixed Farming" was discussed by J. A. Whipple, J. N. Wright, M. J. Bowman and otehrs. "Fall care of our hillside fields" was discussed by J. H. Bailey, D. S. Sherman, F. D. Stone, John Duart, R. B. Lilley, P. Fleming and others. The majority favor plowing up and down the hills to prevent wash of soil while others believe horizontal plowing is preferable. A. T. Lilley gave a talk on "Natures Studies" and exhibited 120 specimens of forest leaves on cardboard. Mrs. May Palmer and Mrs. Edith Mason read extracts from "Holmes Works." Talks for the good of the order were given by James Turner of Keystone grange, Noah Loomis, John Bunyan, Nettie Stone and others. LeRoy Holcomb was recognized as the story teller of the occasion. R. B. Lilley coming in second heat. About 100 enjoyed the supper prepared for the occasion.

Secretary Freeman of the National Grange reports for the year ending Sept. 30, 1908, 302 granges organized and 51 reorganized. Twenty-seven granges have been organized in Pennslyvania and eleven reorganized during the past year. During the past 30 years there has been only one year when there has been so many granges added to the roll as during the past year.

The full benefit to be derived in the grange is to be one who is on time and the Master of a subordinate grange who leads to success, is one who is on time and opens the grange at time fixed by the laws.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Very Interesting Session Held at Powell on Recent Evening.

The W. C. T. U. of Powell held a very interesting meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Josephine Perry. A very pleasing feature of the meeting was the presence of Mrs. W. H. S. Loller, who all were delighted to learn would not move from this charge as was expected. Mr. Loller has been reappointed to the Monroeton and Powell church.

During Mrs. Loller's association with the people of this section she has been found to be a most estimable lady of exceptional capabilities; a very congenial associate, a true, loving and sympathetic friend; a devout christian and a very earnest and efficient worker in the W. C. T. U.

During the meeting it was decided to hold a public meeting during the week bearing on local option, and on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, Rev. Mr. Keltch of West Sayre, gave a very stirring address on "Alcohol; its properties and the evil effects of its use on the human system." He presented most clearly the need and benefit of local option as a means and effect of suppressing the sale of this terrible cause.

Local option means home rule on one of the greatest questions of the day. "The Liquor Traffic," the privilege of home rule on the liquor traffic is given every state in our union except six, namely—Pennsylvania, Wyoming, New Mexico, Utah, Nevada and New Jersey. Pennsylvania and New Jersey are the only states east of the Rocky ountains which do not have a local

The population of the four Western states is only equal to about one-tenth that of Pennsylvania. Hence it can be readily seen that Pennsylvania is the last stronghold of the saloon.

The decisive battle against intemperance and the saloon is being fought now in our Keystone state and every voter who wishes to have some part in the greatest reform of the ages, has only to read the neat ribbon badges furnished by the W. C. T. U. of Bradford county and now being worn by the school children to learn what men to vote for who are pledged to work and to vote for home rule law, on the saloon and the protection of our boys Alice L. Irvine, press superintendent of W. C. T. U.

PENNSYLVANIA BIBLE SOCIETY'S WORK IN BRADFORD COUNTY.

Report of Rev. H. G. Harned, Superintendenet of Bible Disttribution.

Following is the report of Rev. Henderson G. Harned, superintendent of Bible distribution in Bradford and five other counties in Northeastern Pennsylvania under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Bible society, submitted on Oct. 25, at a meeting in Towanda:

"It was my privilege in the year 1900 to visit 881 families in Bradford county in the interests of Bible Distribution, finding sixty-seven of them without bibles and supplying sixty-four of them.

"I also supplied 318 individuals, who were not the owners of even a New Testament.

"We distributed 919 volumnes of the Scriptures, values at $370.35,—selling most of them, but donating when necessray.

"I am fully persuaded that the conditions are no better now. Foreigners are buying up the homes of the former substantial Christian farmers, and many of them have no Bibles.

"During the past year and a half I have had charge of the Bible distribution in this county, as Assistant Secretary of the State Bible Society, and, have been trying to effect a better organiztaion of the Bradford County Bible Society, and doing what I could, under unfavorable circumstances, to help the Sunday Schools and Churches supply the needy in the County.

"Some of the other counties were better organized, and, of course, accomplished more.

"Susquehanna County was as bad off as this until recently, but is now reorganized in good shape in connection with the County Sunday School Association, as I trust this county will be soon.

"The President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer should be residents of the County Seat, near enough together to meet without too much trouble and expense, as they form an executive committee.

"In Susquehanna County Presidents of the Sub-Districts of the County are ex-officio Directors of the County Bible Society to see that not only all of the members of the Sunday Schools but also all other people are supplied with Bibles.

"This is now conceded to be the best arrangement yet made to supply all the world with Bibles, as the Sunday Schools, with their Home Department and Cradle Roll, and all other arrangements form a complete "network" of all Christendom.

"In the year and a half we have sent forward to the Pennsylvania Bible Society to pay for Bibles and expenses for the Northeast Department, from Bradford County $75.56; Pike County $13.55; Wyoming County $60.00; Susquehanna $112.00; Wayne $350.00; Lackawanna County $4,447.25 Total $5,358.36.

"The Pennsylvania Bible Society, under the present arrangements, pays for all of the Bibles distributed in these counties, the Superintendent's salary and for all Colportage work done, also'"

DAILY REVIEW WILL GIVE PUBLIC EARLIEST RETURNS.

Modern Facilities Will Assure Giving Complete Election News.

As soon as modern facilities will allow, The Daily Review will give the people of the City of Promise and vicinity the result of the battle of ballots on election night.

Arrangements have been completed for special telegraph service from all parts of the country, and in addition arrangements have been made with the telephone companies for their special election services.

Through the Bell Telephone company, a special bulletin service will be received, which will be used in connection with the Associated Press and other services arranged for by The Review.

A large screen is to be erected on Park street in front of The Review office, and with a stereopticon from the Family theatre, every bit of election news received by The Review will be flashed upon the screen for the benefit of those who care to look and read. This will be the first electric bulletin service ever given by a newspaper in Northern Pennsylvania.

Review readers and that is nearly every one in Bradford county, are invited to come to Park street and watch the flashing lights which will tell the story. Those who cannot come, may call office by 'phone and latest election news will be cheerfully given.

ELECTION RESULTS.

Incomplete Returrs Confirm Estimate Figures of Wednesday.

NICE MAJORITIES FOR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES

Pratt Will Have Majority of About 2,600, Having Carried Every County in the District, as Did Shields for Senator, Who Will Have About 2,900 Majority.

There were no surprises yesterday, or changes in the results of the voting on Tuesday, the unofficial returns doing no more than to confirm the figures given out Wednesday morning, and make the election of the entire Republican ticket in county, congressional and senatorial districts safe beyond the least shadow of a doubt.

C. C. Pratt, Republican candidate for congress, has a majority over Hon. G. W. Kipp of 2570, estimated from the vote of the districts in. In Bradford Pratt has a majority of 427; in Susquehanna county he has a majority of 1346 with several districts yet to hear from; in Wyoming incomplete returns give him 400 majority, while the estimated majority in Wayne county, judging from districts heard from, he will carry the county by 500, making a total in the four counties estimated at 2570.

Hon. Moses Shields of Nicholson, Wyoming county, Republican candidate for State Senator, will have a majority of about 3,000 over A. M. Cornell of Columbia township, this county.

Bradford county gives Mr. Shields a majority of about 1539; Wyoming 1403; Wyoming county's incomplete returns give him 500, while Susquehana county, with several districts to making an estimated total of 2920. making an estimated total of 2903. Like Mr. Pratt, Mr. Shields carried every county in the district.

Moscrip and Mills are elected representatives by large majorities, almost doubling the vote of Campbell and Rockwell, their Democratic opponents.

Dean has a majority over McNulty for sheriff of about 2743. Marsh, Bird and Griffin are the commissioners. Bird is high man, receiving about 6438, while Marsh is neft with about 6205, and Griffin, Democrat, receives about 4808.

Foyle for register and recorder, is high man on the county ticket, polling about 6784 votes. His opponent, Passmore, has about 3509. Moore has a majority of about 1161 over Walker, his Democratic opponent.

A table giving the unofficial returns will be found in another part of today's paper.

TO WINTER NEAR CANTON.

P., B. & E. Contractor Has Engaged Board For 67 Mules.

Rivenac & Co., the sub-contractors for the completion of the Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern railroad, who came last July with their outfit, prepared to begin work, but were held up pending the financing of the road. have made arrangements with Thomas Brann to winter their mules, numbering 67 head, on the farm sold by C. A. Innes to Brann & Little, which has ample shed accommodations, and is situated just outside Canton borough.

A ton of hay a day is required to feed the animals. While it is known that no work is to be done on the road this winter, there are hopes that the bondholders' committee, which is now at work with encouraging success, may be able to make some arrangement whereby work can be resumed in the spring.—Canton Sentinel.

TORTOISE SHELL.

The Way the Plates Are Removed From the Animal.

The comb of tortoise shell has a very pale and translucent yellow, the only really valuable kind of shell.

"Many people think this pale, unmottled shell the cheaper kind," the dealer said. "Do you know why? Because the imitations are all made like this.

"That is one vulgar error about shell. Another is that the tortoise is killed to get its shell casing. That is as absurd an error as it would be to say a sheep was killed to get its wool.

"What is done is this: The fishermen, having caught a tortoise, tie him and then cover his back with dry grass and leaves. They set fire to this stuff, it burns slowly, and the heat causes the thirteen plates of the shell to loosen at the joints. With a knife the plates are pried off, and afterward the tortoise is set free. The base, or root, of his shell is intact and will grow again. If tortoises were killed to get their shell they would long since have become extinct.

"No, no. Every tortoise is, as it were, a farm—a shell farm. Fishermen catch him regularly and with heat and a knife gently remove his shell."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

COLORS IN THE OCEAN.

Various Causes For the Different Tints of the Water.

Sky and cloud colors are often reflected in the sea, but just as the air has its sunset glory so water has its changing tints quite apart from mere reflection.

Olive and brown lines in the waves off the coast come from the muddy sediment washed from the shore, as blues arise chiefly from reflected sky. But there are many other colors in the ocean. On almost every long voyage at sea spots of reddish brown color are noticed at one time or another. When a few drops of the discolored water are examined under a microscope myriads of minute cylinder shaped algae are seen, some separate, some joined together in scores. It is this organism—sometimes called "sea sawdust"—which has given the name to the Red sea, although it also abounds in other waters. Sometimes the water far from land will be seen to be of a chocolate hue for an extent of several miles, and this is caused by millions upon millions of minute one celled animals which lash themselves along, each on his erratic individual course, by means of the finest of hair-like threads of cilia.—Pearson's.

The Traces of the Beasts.

On every side in the Malay wilds the traces of the beasts which here live as scheduled, as safe from molestation, as did their ancestors in pre-Adamite days—are visible on tree trunk, on beaten game path and on the yielding clay at the drinking places by the hurrying stream. Here a belt of mud nine feet from the ground shows that an elephant has rubbed his itching back against the rough bark of a tree, and, see, coarse hairs are still sticking in the hardened clay. There a long, sharp scratch repeated at regular intervals marks the passing of a rhinoceros. Here, again, is the pad mark of a tiger barely an hour old, and the pitted tracks of deer of all sizes and varieties surround the deeply punched holes which are the footsteps of an elephant.—Cornhill Magazine.

Pear Shaped Balloons.

Pear shaped balloons are the fashion in Belgium. The point is upward; the base of the balloon is spherical. It is claimed that balloons of this shape pierce the air vertically with far greater speed than the ordinary spherical balloon. Consequently they are steadi-

Eloquence of the Welsh.

Here is a little story of an Englishman in Wales: "On the comparative qualities of the English and Welsh tongues let me tell of the Welshman who saluted me in the Welsh. I was compelled to confess ignorance. 'Ah,' he said, turning fluently enough to English, 'you should learn the Welsh! My wife was English, and she can speak conversations now quite well.'

"I acknowledged my shortcomings and admitted that I had always understood the Welsh to be a remarkably eloquent tongue. 'Yes, yes, it iss so,' said the native. 'In Welsh a man can express exactly what he means. As for the English, I call it not a language at all—only a dialect.

"'You haf noted that an Englishman or a foreigner in speaking his language waves his hands and arms about to help out the meaning of the words, but a Welshman who can speak Welsh well he hass no need to move his hands. In the Welsh he can say all that he means.'"—Chicago News.

Settled the Sign.

When William M. Evarts was secretary of state a new elevator man had been employed in the department who did not know Mr. Evarts by sight. In his car was a conspicuous sign to the effect that by order of the secretary of state smoking was prohibited. One day Mr. Evarts boarded the car in company with a famous senator, the latter smoking a cigar. The new man promptly touched the smoker on the elbow and said, pointing at the notice, "Can't you read that sign?" Mr. Evarts promptly tore down the offending notice and, turning to the elevator man, said: "What sign? I don't see any." The attendant, suspecting something, wisely held his peace, but he followed the pair out and asked the guard at the door who the chap with the large head was. The guard told him.

Fiji Islanders' Sugar Cane Dance.

A very curious and exceedingly clever dance may be witnessed in Fiji called by the natives "the sugar cane meke," or sugar cane dance. It represents the growth of the sugar cane. In the first figure the dancers squat low on the ground, shake their heads, shut their eyes and murmur slowly and softly an unintelligible sentence. Gradually they all stand up together, growing taller and taller, and as they "grow" they wave their arms and tremble all over from ankle to head, like the tall, tasseled cane waving in the wind, and still they keep on chanting louder and louder. The last figure represents a series of combats meant to symbolize the exactions of the chiefs, who compel the "kaisi," willing and unwilling, to come and cut their crops.—London Standard.

England's Prettiest Villages.

After a very careful survey we venture to write down the names of the six English villages that we consider the prettiest in the land so far as our own opinion and wide experience are concerned. The choice is made impartially and with full knowledge and due recognition of the claims of each to its high place. Here are the six: Bonchurch, Isle of Wight; Clovelly, Devonshire; Witchampton, Dorset; Sonning, Oxfordshire; Shere, Surrey, and Clapham, Yorkshire.—London Strand Magazine.

Accomplished.

"She's got a future."

"Can she act?"

"No, but she can work her eyes better than any lady in the business, and as for wearing swell clothes—gee, she couldn't do better if she was twins!"—Life.

Almost Qualified.

"Help you!" scoffed the irate housewife. "Well, I guess not. I only assist invalids."

"Well, mum," responded Beefsteak Ben as he tried to remove the bulldog from his shins, "I'll be an invalid if I

ELECTION NIGHT.

Towandians Took Great Interest in Result of the Balloting.

LARGE CROWD WATCHED REVIEW BULLETIN BOARD

Small Boys Cheered Themselves Hoarse, and Older People Just Watched Screen, Smiling or Scowling, Pleased or Displeased.

Election night in Towanda seemed like harking back to ye olden times, for the people took a great interest in the result of the ballots.

The Review flashed the returns upon a screen erected on Park street, and from 7 to 10 o'clock, the street was literally crowded with people. After 10 o'clock the crowd thinned out, but many waited until long after midnight, watching the story told on the canvass by the stereopticon.

Many small boys were in the crowd, and while they remained they made things hum, Taft seeming to be the favorite with them. There were plenty of cheers for Bryan, the Nebraskan having many friends in the throng.

The returns commenced to arrive at 6:30, and the bulletins were flashed upon the screen as soon as the plates could be prepared. Between the displaying of returns, other slides were used to keep the crowd in good humor. It is doubtful if a better natured big crowd ever assembled in Towanda. Everybody seemed happy, although smiles alternated with scowls according to the political faith of the person.

There was not much consolation for Bryan enthusiasts, as the earlier returns were all favorable to Taft. An effort was made to stir up enthusiasm on the local ticket without avail, the crowd seeming content with the result from the states on the National ticket.

Bonfires were kept burning on Main street, which had the effect of keeping off the chill. The only thing lacking to make election night in the City of Promise a real big affair was a brass band, and a quantity of firecrackers.

The Review, believing that nothing is too good for Towanda spared no expense in securing and displaying returns. Through J. R. McCracken, of the Stock Exchange, the latest National returns were received over a special leased wire in the Stock Exchange and brought to the Review by special messenger. In addition to this other returns were received over the Bell and Independent 'phones, so returns were as complete as received by any newspaper in the country.

The electric bulletin which was made possible through the courtesy of C. E. McCracken, of the Family theatre, who kindly loaned a stereopticon, was an innovation in Towanda, in connection with a newspaper, and that it pleased is best attested to by the large crowd which watched the board.

BAD ACCIDENT.

Two Men Killed at Susquehanna by Fall of Coal Pockets.

Two men were killed and a number of others narrowly escaped serious injury when a portion of the new Erie coal pockets in course of erection at Susquehanna collapsed Saturday afternoon.

A large force of men were at work upon a large bent when, without warning, three of the large posts fell.

The men immediately tried to get out of the way of the falling debris and all succeeded in reaching places of safety but Peter Fear and William Kishpaugh. Kishpaugh was caught underneath a large bent.

A hasty examination showed that both men had sustained broken arms and legs and were internally injured. Fear died shortly after 1 o'clock, and Kishpaugh passed away about 5:30 o'clock.

Both men resided in Oakland . Mr. Fear is survived by his wife and two children and Mr. Kishpaugh is survived by his wife and one child.

DIED IN IGNORANCE OF HUSBAND'S INCARCERATION.

Mrs. Fred Northrup Passed Away Believing in Man She Loved.

The Waverly correspondent of the Sayre Times-Record, gives the pathetic story of the death of Mrs. Fred Northrup:

"Mrs. Grace Northrup, wife of Fred Northrup now in the county jail at Owego on a charge of an unnatural and henious crime against his little daughter and also accused of planning a daring jail delivery while incarcerated in the county jail at Towanda, died at the Robert Packer hospital Monday and although conscious to the last she had mercifully been kept in ignorance of the arrest of her husband and of the fact that his absence from her bedside was due to the fact that he was behind a closely locked cell door in the county jail. On August 7 Mrs. Northrup was taken to the hospital suffering from a peculiar malady which resembled paralysis in that she was unable to use her feet and yet differed from it in that her muscles contracted, the cramping pain being almost unbearable. Gradually the affection extended upward until it finally reached a vital point and death resulted Monday.

"Last week a friend of the family visited the unfortunate woman at the hospital and in conversation with her Mrs. Northrup expressed deep sorrow and wonder that her husband had not been to see her during her illness. In conversation her devotion for her husband and despite the fact that he had as she thought neglected her during her illness, her belief in him and an unchanging affection for and desire to see him. The friend did her best to comfort her although she knew that the hopes she raised of his speedy coming could never be realized.

"Those who knew her best say that up to the last Mrs. Grace Northrup looked and longed for the coming of her husband believing in him and in his loyalty."

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS IN CONVENTION AT CANTON.

Much Interest Taken in the Annual Meeting of the Association.

The Canton Sentinel gives the following account of the meeting of Sunday school workers in that place this week:

"The annual convention of the Bradford County Sunday School association was held in this place this week. The attendance of delegates was not so large as might be desired, the rain having doubtless interfered with the plans of those who must come in their own conveyances. However, the Methodist Episcopal church was well filled at the opening meeting on Tuesday night. The orchestra of the various Sunday schools furnished music for the meeting and the singing was spirited, under the direction of Mr. Boughton, the Baptist pastor.

"President Wilkes made brief remarks, and then introduced Miss Martha Robinson, who gave an excellent address on 'The Home Department,' a branch that in recent years she proved of great helpfulness in Sunday school work.

"Rev. C. H. Brandt, district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, gave a thoughtful address on the importance of temperance instruction in the Sunday schools, and urged that the quarterly lessons be used as the basis of inculcating strong temperance convictions in the minds of the scholars.

"Wednesday morning, in addition to reports and routine business, there was a round table conference conducted by Deemer Beidleman, state field worker, which brought out many practical ideas for impressing Bible truths upon the minds of the young and winning them for Christ.

"An address on 'Teacher Training,' by Miss Robinson, was of especial interest to those who aim to secure the best possible results in their class work. The program included addresses on 'Catching Men,' by Mr. Beidleman, and 'Missions in the Sunday Schools,' by Rev. Mr. Warner of Sayre.

WORKED ALL RIGHT.

Susquehanna County Man Kicked Himself Into Eternity.

Determined to blow out his brains and having nothing in the way of a weapon but a long barrelled shot gun, Frank Peck of Harford, Susquehanna county, on Tuesday night called his ingenuity into action and solved the problem so well that he blew the entire bac kof his head off.

In order to make sure he tied a string to the trigger of the gun and the other end to his great toe. Leaning the back of his head on the muzzle of the weapon he gave his foot a twitch, discharging the gun and blowing the back of his head off. Death was instantaneous. His body was found a short time afterward by his son. Peck had apparently been in good health and no reason can be ascribed for his act.

Roll of Honor.

LAY DOWN TO SLEEP AND MET TRAGIC DEATH.

Benjamin Artley Loses Life Near Laquin—Burned and Drowned.

Benjamin Artley, aged about 35 years, met a horrible fate near Laquin Saturday night. His burned and lifeless body was found in the waters of Schraeder creek about one mile North of Laquin early Tuesday morning of this week.

On Saturday of last week, with two companions, he went into the woods near Laquin, and in the forenoon, they built a fire on the bank of the Schraeder. Artley, it is alleged lay down near the fire and went to sleep. His companions tried to awaken him, but as he seemed to be resting comfortably, one of them went back to Laquin, leaving the other two. Finally, as night approached, the other man called to Arley and partly aroused him, enough so he knew what he was saying.

Artley was asked to get up and go along back to Laquin, but he seemed more inclined to sleep, and after coaxing for some time, his companion left him, and started toward home. That was the last seen of Artley alive.

Artley not returning, a search was made and a short distance from where the fire had been built the body of Artley was found in the Schrader creek. He was lying on his left side with his right arm sticking out of the water. Examination of the body disclosed the fact that nearly all the clothing had been burned off, and the flesh was badly blistered. The supposition is that his clothes took fire, and he either rolled or plunged into the creek, to extinguish the flames, and becoming unconscious fell in the water and was drowned.

'Squire Schoonover, acting for Coroner Lee, empanelled a jury and held an inquest., returning a verdict that Artley came to his death by accident. The dead man recently came to Laquin from Montoursville, Lycoming county, to work in one of the mills. Nothing is known of his family.

A FINE RECORD

Made By Pupils Attending the Towanda Public Schools.

ing proud of what they have done. Of

The boys of Miss Lou A. Young's class, seventh grade, Second ward school, have made a record which entitles them to great praise. These 20 boys have not had a single absent or tardy mark for the full nine weeks of the quarter, which ended Wednesday, Nov. 4. This sort of a record is very uncommon and the boys and their teacher are fully justified in feeling proud of what they have done. Of the entire grade of 38 boys and girls together, 35 were perfect in attendance for the full quarter.

The first quarter of the school year closed yesterday and the usual reports were issued to the pupils in the afternoon. Parents are requested to examine these reports carefully and return them signed not later than Friday morning. It is desired that no reports be kept out over the vacation of institute week.

The record of the quarter is very good. Of the entire number of pupils in the public school, 313 have been neither absent nor tardy. This is nearly 50 per cent. of the total and is divided in the various ward schools as follows: First ward, 58; Second ward, 136; Third ward, 62; High school, 57. The percentage of attendance is 98. There have been only 44 cases of tardiness out of a possible 24,320 chances, less than one-fifth of one per cent.

M. B. Cutter Resigns.

A dispatch from South Bethlehem says that M. B. Cutter, general manager of the Lehigh Valley railroad, resigned his position Tuesday, and has accepted a similar one with the Minneapolis, St. Louis & Iowa Central railroad. Mr. Cutter has been connected with the Lehigh for the last ten years. When his resignation will take effect could not be ascertained.

To Prevent Diphtheria Spread.

Stringent measures have been adopted by the Scranton Health Bureau to prevent a further spread of diphtheria of which there are nearly fifty cases already. In one instance the officers have placarded six houses because the inmates visited a diphtheria victim. The establishment of a municipal hospital is being urged.

Meeting With Encouragement.

The bondholders' committee of the P., B. & E., are hard at work trying to make arrangements by which work will be resumed in the construction of the road in the spring. It is reported that they are meeting with very much encouragement.—Canton World.

Hallowe'en Passed Quietly.

Hallowe'en was quietly observed in Towanda Saturday evening. The youngsters confined themselves to marking windows with soap, throwing beans, and other harmless capers. The evening was made the occasion for several parties and social gatherings which proved enjoyable and interesting.

Mrs. Kate Douglass.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO FIGHT FOREST FIRES.

Special Agricultural Schools to Be Established in the State.

Members of the State Educational commission expect to recommend to the next legislature that the children of Pennsylvania be taught to fight forest fires.

The matter of forest preservation has been much discussed by the commissioners at their several meetings and in addition much correspondence on this subject has been exchanged among them.

The commission is practically committed to a demand for a law to compel the establishment of special agricultural schools throughout the state, and it is understood that special classes for instruction not only in the cultivation of forests, but also in the means for the prevention of their destruction will be included in the regular curriculum for these institutions.

The Pennsylvania State Grange is particularly active in a campaign for the establishment of these agricultural schools, and the commission in its report to the legislature will incorporate the ideas of this influential order.

Superintendent of Philadelphia schools Baumbaugh, who is an active member of the state commission, which is now busily engaged in drafting new code of educational laws for the commonwealth, said that had forest preservation been included in the curriculum of the school the present drought in the interior of Pennsylvania could very probably have been averted.

Dr. Brumbaugh said that he believed that practical instruction in fighting forest fires would work wonders in preserving the woods, which aid so materially in conserving the water supply of the state.

TO SIGN REGISTERED MAIL

Postoffice Department Makes New Order Caused by Complaint.

A news dispatch from Washington says: "Declaring that complaints continue to come to the department alleging violation of the postal regulations concerning the disposition of registered mail endorsed for delivery to the addressee in person, an order was issued today by Third Assistant Postmaster General Lawshe directing that such mail must be delivered to no one but the addressee in person, not even upon his written order. If it cannot be delivered to the person addressed, it must be returned to the sender or otherwise disposed of under regulations applicable to undelivered registered mail.

"The wrapper of registered matter is required to be examined before delivery to see if it bears a restrictive endorsement, failure to notice which will no longer be accepted as an excuse."

Successful Sale.

The personal property of the late Edwin P. Tracy of Smithfield, was disposed of at auction on the premises, Wednesday and Thursday, last week, and it was one of the largest attended and most successful sales ever held in that section. George N. Bird, administrator of the estate, was in charge of the sale, while Porter Northrup of Towanda, held the hammer and did the auctioneering. The contents of a gristmill, grocery store, 16 head of cattle, any number of farming utensils, and everything about the place was disposed of at good prices. The sale started Wednesday, but as a steady rain set in adjournment was taken until Thursday morning when every article was disposed of. There was a large crowd in attendance, and the bidding was high and lively.

Eye Punctured.

Louis H. Hunsinger of Athens, a car repairer, run a nail in his eye, while working at the Lehigh shop at Sayre yesterday. He is a car repairer, and was driving nails in the ceiling of a car when he struck one a glancing blow. The nail flew down, and the point struck him in the eye. He was taken to the hospital where it was found that the crystaline lens had been punctured, and part of the aqueous humor and had run out. The iris also protruded, and part of it was cut off. The doctors hope to save the sight, however.

Lightning Struck Barn.

From our East Smithfield correspondent comes this information that the barn of Mr. Schoonover, about one mile East of Riggs, was struck by lightning Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock, and burned to the ground. They succeeded in getting out the horse and two cows but all the other contents including about 12 tons of hay, farming tools, etc., were entirely consumed.

CHAS. M. HALL DEAD

Well Known Towandian Died Suddenly Yesterday Morning.

WAS A CANDIDATE FOR PHOTHONOTARY.

Heart Failure Terminates Busy Career of Member of Bradford County Bar—Served One Term as Register and Recorder.

Charles M. Hall, a member of the Bradford county bar, and one of Towanda's best known citizens, died suddenly at his home on South Main street Monday morning. He hda been in his usual health until early yesterday, when he complained of a pain in his left side.

He arose shortly before six o'clock, and went into the kitchen, where he prepared and swallowed a quantity of Jamaica ginger in the hope of relieving the pain. After a short time, the pain not having abated, he prepared a second dose, but death claimed him before he could swallow it. When Mrs. Hall went into the kitchen about 6:20, she found her husband dead on the floor Heart failure was the cause of death

Was a Candidate For Prothonotary.

Mr. Hall was the Democratic candidate for prothonotary of Bradford county, his name appearing on the ballots which were used at the polls on Tuesday.

Sketch of His Life.

In the death of Charles M. Hall, Towanda loses a citizen who by his own efforts gained a place above the crowd.

He was born in Towanda 65 years ago, the eldest son of the late D. C. Hall, who from 1844 to 1865 was prominently identified with the life and trade of the county seat. When a young man, the subject of this sketch went west and located on the shore of the copper region of Lake Superior, where he remained until the death of his father in 1865, when he returned to Towanda and took charge of his father's business interests, later taking a position with Codding & Russell, hardware dealers, in the store which they purchased from his father.

In 1873 he decided to take up the law as a profession, and four years later was admitted to practice at the Bradford county bar. In 1878 he was appointed a justice of the peace for Towanda borough by Governor Hartranft, afterwards being elected on the Democratic ticket in the face of strong Republican opposition. In 1890 he was elected register and recorder on the Democratic ticket, serving one term. Since then he has practiced law, carried on a real estate and insurance business, and served as justice of the peace in Towanda township. In addition to this he did considerable work as a stenographer.

Mr. Hall was a Republican until 1888, when he believed that the Democratic policies were more to his way of thinking and so allied himself with that party, always taking an active interest in political matters. Years ago through his advocacy, he gained for himself the title of "Free Trade Hall," but this was a misnomer as he was more for tariff reform than out and out free trade.

Mr. Hall's education was gained in the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute, which he left at the age of 13, going out with the reputation of being a good classical scholar. Such matters as German, French and stenography, he learned of himself as necessary or expedient. In the period between 1870 and 1875, when the Good Templars were active in this county, he was president of the county lodge. As a temperance candidate for county treasurer he received the highest vote on the ticket. He was one of the very few actually native of Towanda, to be elected to a county office, as most officers credited to Towanda borough have been gentlemen who have moved here, locating before or after election.

Mr. Hall was a genial, friendly man, with plenty of ambition and a spirit of fairness which was characteristic of him. Honest, and sincere, steadfast in his beliefs, he plodded along doing his best all the while. A host of friends throughout the county will regret to learn of his sudden and untimely demise.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three sons: Delos C. Hall, a member of the U. S. signal corps, stationed at Fort Wood, N. Y., Charles S. Hall and Cornelius C. Hall, both of Towanda.

Epidemic of Burglaries.

Five burglaries were reported to the Scranton police Monday, making nine within 48 hours that have come to the knowledge of the authorities. While none have resulted in serious loss they have been frequent enough to stir up the police and all efforts will be made to ferret out the guilty ones, probably boys, according to the opinion of the authorities.

ITALIAN LET FORTUNE SLIP THROUGH FINGERS.

Watkins Junk Dealer Sold $4,000 in Gold for Ten Cents.

Further particulars from Watkins of the remarkable find of $4,000 in gold in an old pump pipe at that place state that the Italian junk dealer who sold the pump for ten cents is ill in bed with nervous troubles, brought on by his rage and dismay at letting a fortune slip through his fingers. He had had the old pump for a long time and it had lain about his junk pile with nobody suspecting the fortune it contained.

The piece of pipe in which the coin was found was a three-inch piece of iron pipe, having a valve in one end and an iron cap on the other. It was bought by John Roberts, a well driller of Reading, who had use for such a piece, and he cut off the cap, when 230 $20 gold pieces poured out. These coins were dated from 1863 to 1886.

The junk dealer says he got the pump from the ruins of the old Glen City Hotel at Walkins. It is believed the gold originally belonged to P. B. Hewitt, a former proprietor. He came to Watkins 30 years ago from the California gold fields. He was very eccentric and was a "crank" in his belief that gold was the only legitimate legal tender. It is not believed that there is any way the money could be identified or claimed by Hewitt's relatives, if he had any, and in all probability Roberts can keep his money.—Owego Record.

Addition to Canton Factory.

C. H. Weller of Montgomery, has made arrangements with the Canton Couch company to manufacture a kitchen cabinet and dumb waiter of which he is the patentee. Mr. Weller will move his family to Canton in a short time and will personally superintend the manufacture and sale of the cabinets. He already has his selling force organized. The cabinet has been introduced in some localities and has met with such ready sale that there is reason to believe that the demand will be large when its merits become more fully known. This arrangement will also prove advantageous in many ways to the Couch company. It is likely that a little later on Mr. Weller will bring several families to Canton.—Canton Sentinel.

Bradford County Directory.

Four Bakeries For Canton.

Says the Canton World: "Canton will soon be blessed with about four bake shops. O. L. Fields is arranging to open a new bakery, and George Bull, who has been in the business for a number of years, has sold his portable oven to a party who intends to open up a pastry shop as soon as Mr. Bull's new bake house is finished. Then there is the home made bread sold at Davison's drug store. With so much competition there promsies to be a hot time in the bakery business in the near future."

Reporter-Journal Offered Free for Two Months—Read it.

After November 1, all subscriptions to The Reporter-Journal must be paid in advance, and on and after that date, all papers will be stopped at the expiration of the time paid for. The publishers have taken this step after mature deliberation, and believe that it is the fairest plan both for the publisher and the subscriber.

The Reporter-Journal is conceded to be by far the best weekly newspaper in Northern Pennsylvania. It has a large circulation through Bradford county and surrounding territory, but there are many more people who should be regular subscribers, and to introduce it to them, the publishers have decided to make this extra offer. On receipt of $1, the paper will be sent from now until January 1, 1910, giving the paper fourteen months for the price of one year. The only stipulation made is that subscribers must not owe anything for subscription to the paper. Send currency, postal order or check, made to the order of Towanda Printing Company.

The Reporter-Journal thoroughly covers the news of Bradford county in all departments, court reports, land transfers and matter of general interest, and every week prints an average of fifty news letters from as many different neighborhoods in the county. Every Bradford county family should have this great paper, and former residents of the county cannot keep informed of the news of their old home so well in any other way as by becoming a subscriber.

Send us $1 and get the very best Bradford county newspaper printed, for fourteen months.

Wyalusing Girls Make Another Score.

About 20 Wyalusing young ladies last night enjoyed one of their annual fine banquets. The banquet which was prepared and served by Mrs. H. Mulligan, the town's cateress, was one of the most appetizing and bountiful ever given. The tables were beautifully decorated with carnations and fern and the joyful humor of all the guests made it one long to be remembered by those present. All sorts of Hallowe'en pranks were indulged in. As customary with the Wyalusing girls it was a complete secret, and many long faces were in evidence among the young men when the news was broken.

Hi Henry Still Living.

Recently there was a widely circulated report that Hi Henry, the minstrel man, was dead of paralysis. This is now denied through the New York Clipper by Mr. Henry's manager. He said that the renowned Hi had a bad cold, but is now in pretty good health on his ranch in Horsehead Bend, Idaho. So, Towanda audiences may again hear cornet solos of his majesty, the minstrel king, and see the glimmer of the great diamond shirt stud.

Towanda Snowed Under.

The Towanda High school football team went to Tunkhannock Saturday, and there met the High school team, going down to defeat by the score of 25-0. The Towanda boys put up a stiff fight, and fought over every inch of ground, but the weight of their opponents was what caused their downfall. Ashmun Parsons, Jr., was the referee.

W. S. SIMPSON IS QUOIT CHAMPION OF THE COUNTY.

Defeated John E. Graham Four Games Out of Five Yesterday Afternoon.

Winfield S. Simpson of Towanda, is the champion quoit pitcher of Bradford county, having won the title yesterday afternoon by defeating his challenger, John E. Graham, also of the City of Promise, four games out of five.

The contest took place on the Kinney House grounds and was witnessed by a very large crowd. Mr. Simpson, who defeated 'Squire Meredith last Saturday afternoon, was in rare form, and his work was of the gilt edge brand. Mr. Graham was a worthy opponent, for he made him pitch all the while, and there was no walk away in any one of the five games. Edward Walker officiated as judge and score keeper.
